Hospitals Distribute Penicillin
More than 1,000 hospitals in the United States have been selected to serve as depot hospitals for the limited civilian distribution of penicillin, the WPB announced. The hospitals should have received their first shipments on May 10.

More Irons To Be Produced
Authorizations to produce a total of 193,625 electric flat irons in 1944 have been granted two manufacturers in Mansfield, Ohio and one manufacturer in New York City, WPB said. The total authorized production is now about 305,000 irons.

Transport Lines Must Be Clear
"This is invasion year," the director of ODT said, and the transportation system must be free to respond to any demands that the occasion may make upon it. The unessential traveler will have only himself to blame if he is indefinitely stranded, or finds his Pullman reservations summarily canceled, or finds passenger schedules temporarily disrupted and intercity buses completely swamped, the director said.

Weeds Compete with Crops
Keeping the weeds down is the most important part of cultivation, say garden specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. To get weeds out of rows of seedling plants it may be necessary to do some weeding with the fingers instead of with a rake or hoe. Killing the weeds when they are small makes the job easier and gives the plants a better chance from the start.

Priorities for Used Cars
The Union of South Africa has established a priority on used automobiles, according to the U. S. Department of Commerce. Major essential services and physicians may buy 1941 and 1942 models. Persons in essential work residing at a considerable distance from town where railroad transportation is not available may qualify for 1940 models. Persons employed on work necessary for the economic life of the Union may qualify for 1938 and 1939 models.

Mrs. Landauer, Herbert Gerst Bridge Winners

Two Norfolk bridge players — Mrs. Leon Landauer and Lt. Herbert Gerst, USNR — won major honors in the annual Cavalier Contract Bridge Tournament which closed a three-day session at the Pinewood Hotel, Virginia Beach, Sunday night.

Mrs. Landauer and Lt. Gerst won the Mixed Pair Match Friday night, and came back Saturday to place in the Open Pair championship event. Mrs. Landauer and Herman Sherman, of New York, paired to win the latter event with a total of 198 plus match points, while Lt. Gerst and J. S. Miller, a Navy enlisted man, also of Norfolk, won second place with 187 plus match points.

A Richmond team — Mrs. J. E. Folline, Mrs. George Whitfield, Lt. J. J. Parrish, USNR, and a fourth player who wished to remain anonymous — won the Team of Four Event which closed the tournament.

To win, the team marked up 314 match points out of a possible 56. In second place in the final match were Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Brandon, of New York; Dave Rosenbloom, of Portsmouth, and J. S. Miller, who also placed second in the Open Pair Match. The team's tally was 314 match points out of a possible 56.

Ellis Butt, who managed the tournament, said it was the most successful in several years. A. M. Sobel, of New York, was tournament director.

Oceana Students Buy Many Bonds, War Saving Stamps

Early in September, 1943, the Victory Corps of Oceana High School under the sponsorship of Mrs. Randolph Jeter again sold stamps and bonds as of the previous session.

This year, stamps and bonds were sold each Wednesday morning. The school feels very proud of the Corps and the work it has done. The Corps and its sponsor would like to thank all who cooperated with them in this great undertaking in helping to win the war.

When the Stamp and Bond Sale ended on May 18th, the school had sold a total of $20,000.50 in stamps and bonds.

The only urge on the part of the students to buy bonds and stamps was that every one be consistent in buying each week.

The school has been informed that for the most part the bonds are put away and not cashed.

NEWS OF OUR MEN-WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Robert O. Bail, Jr.
Lt. Robert O. Bail, Jr., now serving as an instructor in the Army Air Corps at Blytheville, Ark. has just been promoted to the rank of 1st Lieutenant.

Lt. Bail is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jones and before entering the armed forces made his home at Virginia Beach. He is a graduate of Oceana High School.

John S. Beattie
Lieut. John Spilman Beattie, bombardier, U. S. Army Air Forces, has been missing in action over Austria since May 10, according to a telegram received late Saturday from the Secretary of War by the officer's parents, Dr. and Mrs. John Beattie, R. F. D. No. 1, London Bridge. Dr. Beattie has offices in the Medical Arts Building, Norfolk. No further information has been received by the young officer's parents.

Ivan E. Osborn
Second Lieut. Ivan Eugene Osborn, 2401 Arctic Avenue, Virginia Beach, Va., recently was graduated with that rank from the Naval Aviation Training Center, Pensacola, Florida. He was designated a Naval Aviator and assigned to active duty.

Lieut. Osborn is the son of Mrs. Sallie D. Osborn, 2401 Arctic Avenue, Virginia Beach, Va.

This Wac Is Equally at Home in Back of a Camera or in Front of It!

Many cameras were pointed at this member of the Women's Army Corps when she was a civilian, but now, as a photographer with the Army Air Forces, she does the picture-taking. Trained in an Army school, a WAC photographer has interesting assignments and the opportunity for an excellent postwar career.

Camp Pendleton News Items

More WAC Recruits Wanted

The Women's Executive Committee of the Personnel Affairs Branch of Camp Pendleton, Va., is currently making a drive for WAC enlistments. Leave your name at any church in town, the USO Club, the Chamber of Commerce or any business establishment for a personal interview with one of the members of the committee.

Foster's Command Returns

Lt. Col. Foster and his command, who left Camp Pendleton in December 1941 for Alaska and the Aleutians, have returned to the Pendleton post. His organization was one of the first to leave New York for this service and the men under Col. Foster suffered under hardships of weather and inhospitable terrain.

After twenty-eight months of roughing it, these GIs are really toughened, seasoned veterans and their varied experiences and training in combat tactics should prove invaluable to the men on this post.

Magazines Wanted

Patients in the Station Hospital need reading matter to help pass away the time while convalescing. Especially needed are comic, western, detective and adventure magazines. Also any picture magazine such as Life, Look, Pic, Click, etc. Give them to the Camp Librarian who will see that they are sent to the Hospital Red Cross Bldg. at Fort Story.

Local Artist To Donate Painting

"The Bus Stop," a painting by Mary S. Hudgins (Mrs. A. Herman Hudgins) of Avenue E is one of the pictures to be exhibited and auctioned to the highest bidder in war bonds to promote the sale of bonds in the Fifth War Loan Drive, June 12-17. Mrs. Hudgins, who donated her painting to the cause, was president of the Norfolk Art Corner for two years.

MRS. S. A. BROCK ON 2ND DIST. COMMITTEE

At the recent convention of the Second District of the American Legion Mrs. S. A. Brock was elected alternate committee woman for the Second District.

RED CROSS GRADUATES 14 IN STAFF ASSISTANTS COURSE

Requests Received for Canteen Service at Norfolk Army Air Base

Mrs. Louis Fisher, Chairman of the Staff Assistants Corps of the Princess Anne County Chapter of the American Red Cross, announces that fourteen people have completed the Staff Assistants course, conducted by her this spring, and have received their certificates.

They are: Mrs. James Jordan, 3rd, Mrs. Harry Grace, Miss Mary C. Lee, Miss Carolina deWitt, Mrs. Joseph Lyle, Miss Helen S. Parker, Mrs. Carl Banbach, Mrs. Earl Woodhouse, Mrs. Harry Peck, Mrs. J. M. Woolf, Mrs. J. J. McMahon, Mrs. J. L. Chivington, Mrs. V. B. Hodson, Jr., and Miss Margaret Everett.

After 30 hours of volunteer work, Staff Assistants Corps pins are distributed, and twelve of this group have already received their pins and are working every week at this chapter.

Canteen Service Requested

Mrs. L. C. Jarvis, Chairman of the Canteen Corps of the Princess Anne County Chapter of the American Red Cross, has been requested by the Tidewater Camp and Hospital Council to provide canteen service for the flyers and enlisted men of the Norfolk Army Air Base, which is located in this county.

The Virginia Beach Canteen group will be responsible for Tuesday, starting June sixth, and the Kempville Canteen group, headed by Mrs. James Thompson, Acting Chairman, will be responsible for Sundays, and the Norfolk Chapter, for the balance of the week.

The Motor Corps will assist the Canteen Corps in carrying out this work.

Mrs. Walter Maher, chairman of Production, announces that Mrs. Selden Grandy has been appointed chairman of sewing succeeding Mrs. George Boush.

Board Meeting June 6

The Princess Anne Chapter of the American Red Cross will hold its Board meeting at Chapter Headquarters on Tuesday, June 6th at 8 P.M.

We must learn by bitter experience what not to do.

Annual Essay Contest Winners Announced

Winners in the Annual Essay Contest conducted in the high schools of the County by the Princess Anne County TB Association have been announced by Mrs. R. G. Barr, chairman of the contest, and the sponsors in the various schools, who were Mrs. E. S. Monroe from Kempville; Mrs. Elizabeth Kik-ligher of Oceana; Miss Margaret Bailey of Creeds; Miss Betty Forbes of the Princess Anne Training School and all English teachers. The subject this year was, "What Do We Really Know About Tuberculosis?" All pupils were required to submit an essay which was judged by a committee consisting of Mrs. Millard Butt, Mrs. Millard Lewis and Mrs. F. P. Barrow.

A prize of $5 in War Saving Stamps was awarded the winner in each school. Irene Holloman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Holloman of Virginia Beach won the award for Oceana. June Gunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gunter of Lynnhaven was winner in the Kempville school. From Creeds school, Alline Halstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Halstead of Mundem, Princess Anne Training School (colored), Clarence Wheaton, son of the Roy Wheatons of Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Carr, chairman, expressed great satisfaction with the results of the year's work and the increased interest shown. She wishes to publicly thank the sponsors, the judges, F. W. Cox, superintendent of schools, all school principals and teachers who aided in the success of the campaign and to the Virginia Beach News for publicity.

Free Clinic Planned for Fall
The TB Association has plans underway whereby citizens of the community may be able to have a chest X-ray free, or at very little cost. Early diagnosis is one sure way of control and eventual elimination of the dread disease. It is hoped that this service will be available in the early fall.

Business is always interfering with pleasure — but it makes other pleasures possible.

Twenty-Third Short Course to Center on "Winning the War"

The State 4-H Club Short Course will hold its twenty-third annual meeting at V. P. I. June 12-17, inclusive. This news will cause rejoicing among hundreds of 4-H members throughout the State who have attended or have hoped to attend one of the short courses to be held in the V. P. I. campus. This will be the first short course to be held since 1941. In 1942 the plans had been made but were cancelled because of the war emergency.

It will be necessary, because of conditions on the V. P. I. campus and throughout the State, to limit the attendance to a definite delegated group of outstanding 4-H members and leaders.

On Monday, June 5, at 8:30 A.M., Oceana High School will again give an opportunity for High School people to come to Summer School. The Summer School has always been operated for the purpose of allowing students to make up work in which they failed. It is not designed to offer credit for new work.

The teachers who are conducting the school this year are: Mrs. McCloud and Mrs. Jeter. Mrs. McCloud will teach students who are deficient in math, science and the languages. Mrs. Jeter will teach students deficient in English and History. These two teachers are regular teachers in Oceana High School.

APPLICATIONS LONDON BRIDGE POSTMASTER MUST BE IN JUNE 16

Open Competitive Examination Announced by U. S. Civil Service Commission

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an open competitive examination to fill the vacancy in the position of postmaster at London Bridge, Va., in accordance with an Act of Congress, approved June 25, 1938.

In order to be eligible for the examination, an applicant must be a citizen of, or owe allegiance to, the United States; must have actually resided within the delivery of the post office for which the examination is held, or within the city or town where such office is situated, for at least 1 year immediately preceding the date fixed for the close of receipt of applications; must be in good physical condition; and must be within the prescribed age limits. The competition is open to both men and women.

The Civil Service Commission will certify the names of the highest three qualified eligibles to the Postmaster General who shall thereupon submit the name of the eligible selected to the President for nomination. Confirmation by the Senate is the final action.

Applicants will be required to assemble in an examination room for written tests, and will also be rated on their education and business or professional experience, general qualifications and suitability. The Civil Service Commission will make an impartial inquiry among representative patrons of the office, both men and women, concerning the experience, ability, and character of each applicant, and the evidence thus secured will be considered in determining the ratings to be assigned to the applicants. The Commission is not interested in the political, religious, or fraternal affiliations of any applicant.

Full information and application forms may be obtained at the post office for which the examination is held, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications must be on file in the office of the Commission at Washington 25, D. C. prior to the hour of closing of business on June 16, 1944.

$300 Realized From Sale of Poppies May 27

Through the efforts of the American Legion Auxiliary, post 113, over $300 was realized from the sale of Poppies on the streets, May 27th.

The committee in charge of the sale wishes to express appreciation for the valuable assistance and support given by interested friends in the community and the young ladies who sold the poppies on the street. It is interesting to note how the little wild flower came into use as the memorial flower for our war dead.

MEMORIAL DAY

On the National Memorial Day
the American people paused with reverent hearts to pay tribute to the service men of many wars who have made the supreme sacrifice.
Processions of patriotic organizations and citizens went to the cemeteries to honor the dead and to place flowers on the graves of those who offered their lives for their country.

For many years in the South
Memorial Day was known as "Decoration Day" and was usually celebrated on a day when local flowers were at their height of bloom. This day did not always fall on May 30.

Memorial Day had its beginning in 1868 although the graves of soldiers killed in the Civil War had been decorated with flowers before that year, especially in the South.
Records show that the women of Columbus, Mississippi, put flowers on the graves of both Union and Confederate dead as early as 1863.
On April 26, 1865 a party of women
under Mrs. Sue Landon Vaughn, decorated soldiers graves near Vicksburg. In May of 1865 a party of women in Winchester, Virginia, formed a Stonewall Jackson Memorial Association and on June 6 went to the Confederate cemetery in Winchester, said to be the first cemetery especially laid out for soldier dead, and decorated the graves with flowers. In May of 1868 the G. A. R., an organization of Union soldiers made arrangements to decorate the graves of Union soldiers throughout the country on a uniform date. An order was issued to all G. A. R. posts by General John A. Logan.
The order designated May 30, 1868,
as the day on which the ceremony of decorating with flowers the graves of Union soldiers be observed. State legislatures passed acts designating the day as a legal holiday. In time, regulations were adopted by the army and navy for observation of the day. The day originally observed as a time to decorate the graves of soldiers of the Civil War later became a time when the graves of all those of all wars were included. The practice has grown until it now extends to all graves. On Memorial Day the nation as a whole stops for a few hours to lay a wreath of flowers
upon the graves of its departed.

ON BEING YOURSELF

Bedford Democrat

Emerson wrote in his Journal:
"You should never attempt to make another human being like yourself, because you know and God knows that one person like yourself is enough. Moreover, nearly every one wants to be like some one else, to think like some one else, act like some one else, dress like some one else, look like some one else. Every ship looks romantic except the one we are on." And yet God has made us two of us allike. Try as we may, we differ
even to the tips of our fingers.
If there is one lesson that life teaches more than another, it is this: That a man must be himself and not some one else to develop personality and be of any real value of society. The colored preacher tangled his phrases a bit,
but hit a true mark when he said:
"Be what you is and not what you
ain't, because if you ain't what you
is, you is what you ain't."
Dean Brown of Yale has finely
expressed the thought in these
words "Nature expects you to do

Doakes booklets belong in every man's pocket, in every woman's purse, for they do express what most of us really believe, but don't always know how to say.

I have all four of the books on my desk as I write, for I like their tone. For instance, let me quote from one. "I am not an Optimist. I am not a Pessimist. I have no use for bunk, particularly foreign bunk.
No one is going to make me hate
the fellow who lives in the same back as I do." Now that's what I call American. Not hate at the back and call of an outsider — but making up one's own mind according to the individual and the facts.
Far be it from me to suggest that, like the Nazis and Communists, we should have a line, but it's a good thing to read the answers as someone who has given a lot of thought to it has worked them out. We can then adapt them to our needs.

I have often used a quote from one of the booklets. "When someone keeps criticizing the way things are going, I tell him I never saw a ball game won by the noisy fellow in the bleachers who's yelling at the umpire and razzing the players.
Games are won by the men in the field and the coaches and captains who stand back of them." That's plain common sense.

If you want to get copies of these booklets, send in to Joe Doakes, Room 707, 2 West 43rd Street, New York City, and they will be sent to you without cost. I recommend them because I believe they will help you as they have helped me to speak up for democracy and defend our faith as an American.

The Difference Between
The Nazis and Ourselves

The editor of one of our religious journals received a letter the other day in which the writer advanced the proposition that in this war
there is no difference between ourselves and the Nazis, and that,
therefore, we ought to admit our guilt and stop talking as if we had a cause to fight for which distinguishes our war aims from those of Hitler.

We run across considerable opinion of this kind from day to day and we ought to know the answer to it. The answer to it is that there is a moral law governing mankind which enables us to distinguish between right and wrong, and that the Nazis, as their words and deeds prove, have taken the utterly inadmissible position
that the moral law does not exist.
This position cannot be tolerated
unless we are willing to surrender civilization which rests upon the moral law, to men who have deliberately reverted to the code of the jungle.

We do not contend that we ourselves fulfill perfectly the requirements of the moral law. We readily admit that we have often broken
it and that our laxness with respect to its demands before the war encouraged the rise of Nazism in Germany.

But we do stand on solid ground
when we draw a distinction between the Nazis and ourselves. For the Nazis break the moral law in the name of its non-existence. We have never done that. We recognize its sovereignty, regretting only that so many of us so often act otherwise.

We are not fighting as the Nazis are to create a world in which the moral law is discarded. We are fighting for the chance to create a world in which it is exalted. This distinction between the Nazis and ourselves must be drawn. Otherwise we shall be confused by our own inability to discern the issues underlying the war.

"Be what you is and not what you
ain't, because if you ain't what you
is, you is what you ain't."
Dean Brown of Yale has finely
expressed the thought in these
words "Nature expects you to do

the things you were made to do, to be true to the law of your being—function according to the law of your own nature, live out your own manhood and womanhood. Whatever your hands, your mind, your heart finds to do, do it well — let
the result reflect the worth and value of your own personality."

Work out your mission in God's law of life. He who loses sight of the realization of this end loses in living the real reason of life.

Try as we may we can never get away from ourselves long and a man can have no nobler comrade
than his own finest, truest self.
"I want to live with myself and so,
I want to be fit for myself to know.
Always to look myself straight in the eye;

I don't want to stand, with the setting sun,
And hate myself, for the things
I've done.

I want to go with head erect;
I want to deserve all men's respect.
But here in the struggle for fame and pelf
I want to be able to like MYSELF."

Chartist to Develop Will to Jump

A Melbourne, Australia, newsman training with a parachute regiment learned that the parachutist's greatest difficulty is to develop the will to keep on jumping,
the Australian News and Information Service reports. The newsmen said that even after as many as six successful drops, some men found that they could not jump again.

Demand More Eggs from French

The Germans have "demanded" delivery this year of 60 million eggs from French peasants—double the amount requested in 1943—according to a French radio broadcast at Algiers, reported by U. S. government monitors.

Lend-Lease Food Shipments

Lend-lease food shipments are continuing to go almost entirely to the United Kingdom and the Soviet Union. In 1943 the United States shipped under lend-lease a little over 1 per cent of its total beef
and veal supply, about 11 per cent of its lamb and mutton, and less than 15 per cent of its pork. The U. S. sent 9,000 tons of these to aid Soviet production of food.

Merchant Seamen in Enemy Camps

About 600 American merchant seamen and officers are now prisoners of war, the War Shipping Administration says. Nearly 500 are in Japanese camps, and the remainder are in Germany.

Polish Ships Help Fight Japs

Since almost the first days of war in the Pacific, the Polish Merchant Marine has been active in carrying Allied troops, arms, ammunition, and provisions to various fronts, the Polish Review reports.

Services to Train Blinded Men

Service men blinded in the war
will not be released from their military organizations until they have successfully completed a social adaptation training course, the U. S.
War Department announced. The number of men totally blinded thus far is less than 15 — 70 are Army casualties and three are Navy and Marine Corps casualties. Also, two blinded German soldiers, prisoners of war, are under care in this country.

Allies Use French Shipping

Under the terms of a British-French-American agreement, the French Committee of National Liberation puts all of its ocean-going tonnage at the disposition of the United Nations until the defeat of the last Axis power. The French reassume full responsibilities and obligations with respect to French crews on the ships.

Philippines Liable to Farm Labor

Men and women between the ages of 16 and 60 in the occupied Philippines will be called on for compulsory labor service in agriculture for one day each week without pay, the Japanese Domei Agency said. A total of 8,500,000 Phi-lipinos fall within this age group.

Chinese Killed for Aiding Airmen

After the bombing of Tokyo, 25-000 Chinese civilians, who had given refuge to the "Doolittle" airmen, were massacred by the Japs, an eyewitness of the aftermath told the Chinese News Service.

We try never to forget that men are dying at the front while we are complaining about the civilian "sacrifices."

History Of Am.
Legion Poppy

The idea of the poppy as a memorial flower for the World War dead sprang up as naturally as the little wild flower itself grows in the fields of France and Flanders. The flower was the one touch of beauty which survived amid the hideous destruction of war. Along the edge of the trenches, beneath the tangled barbed wire, about the ragged shell holes and over the fresh graves it raised its brave red bloom.
It seemed to be the one immortal thing in that region where death reigned. The soldiers of all nations came to look upon it as the living symbol of the sacrifices of their dead comrades.

It was a poet who first gave expression to the idea. Soon himself to lie beneath the poppies, he wrote:
"In Flanders' fields, the poppies blow,

Between the crosses, row on row"

Even before the men had returned from the war, the perfect little poem of Colonel John McCrae had wings its way around the world carrying the picture of the poppies.
Returning soldiers brought the vision of the poppy fields back with them, engraved indelibly in their hearts with the memories of the comrades they had left on the battle-front. Spontaneously the poppy took on a sacred significance.
It became the flower of remembrance for the men who had poured out their life's blood around the roots of the little plant.

Memories of the war dead always bring thoughts of those who did not die but came back doomed
to years of hardship and suffering, sometimes worse than death. In the poppy was found a way to link
the honoring of the dead with service for the living victims of the war. Soon after the war patriotic organizations in different countries
began, to conduct sales of poppies
made by disabled veterans, to raise funds for relief work among suffering ex-service men and their families. A double significance became attached to the poppy. Wearing the little flower came to mean honoring
the dead and helping the living.

The poppy also became the memorial flower of the British Legion.
Other American veterans' organizations followed. The American Legion and Auxiliary in adopting it as their official flower of remembrance. Soon many millions of the little red flowers were being worn
each year in all parts of the English-speaking world, to honor the World War dead and to aid the war's living victims.

The nation-wide sale of memorial poppies was begun by the Legion and Auxiliary in 1921. At first poppies made in France by French widows and orphans were used. In 1922 the first poppies were produced in the hospitals of Minnesota,
and this work has steadily expanded until poppies are being made in more than fifty hospitals and disabled veterans' workrooms in forty different states.

The crepe paper poppy was selected as the official poppy of the American Legion and Auxiliary because it provided the maximum of work for the disabled men, with the minimum expenditure for materials. The fabric poppy was considered, but it was not selected because making this poppy would not provide sufficient employment for the disabled veterans.

"By 1924 it was seen that the poppy program lent itself more naturally to the work of women than of men, and The American Legion gave the Auxiliary complete charge of the national program.
This was a heavy responsibility.
Wearing the flower was the nation's annual tribute to the World War dead. From the distribution of the flower came a large proportion of the welfare and relief funds of both organizations. Seldom has such a gigantic enterprise been placed solely in the hands of women.

How well the Auxiliary measured up to the responsibility placed on its shoulders is shown by the development of the poppy program.
Each year approximately 13,000,
000 Americans wear Legion and Auxiliary poppies in tribute to the war dead, contributing for the flowers over a million dollars for the welfare of the war's living victims.

Black Bass Season
Opens June 20th

Richmond, Va., May 29 — The black bass season throughout Virginia will open on June 20, officials of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries pointed out today.
This will mean that the opening date will be five days later for the counties east of the Blue Ridge and centuries ten days earlier for the Western Virginia counties.

The law was changed by the General Assembly in line with the trend toward the ultimate simplification of all game laws with a view to more economical and effective enforcement. The uniform opening of the bass season on June 20 will create a new statewide bass-ing day among anglers as in April 20, the annual opening of the trout season.

The changed opening date for bass was not altogether a compromise. Hitherto it has been believed that the smallmouth bass spawned much later than the largemouth
of the eastern sections of the State,
but this has been found to be untrue, and the opening of the small-mouth season ten days earlier is biologically sound.

June 20 will be looked forward to
by bass anglers throughout the State. While the number of sportsmen who fish for bass has been steadily increasing, the propagation program for this species has been proportionately expanded and there is every indication that there will be excellent bass fishing this year.

More Telephones Coming

Resumption of manufacture of

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Did you hear that Tom is going to be inducted into the Army next week, Judge?"
"Yes, Frank told me this morning down at the barber shop. Our town's got a lot of men in the service now, Jim. In fact, all towns have. I was just reading in the paper where there are more than 10,000,000 men
away from their homes in the armed forces.
And, from all reports, they're doing a grand job bringing victory closer every day."
"We folks at home have a mighty big obligation to those 10,000,000 fighting men.
We've got to produce the food to keep them
well fed. We've got to keep them supplied with the ammunition and equipment they need to finish their job. We've got to help the Government pay for all these supplies
our men need by buying more and more War Bonds. We'll have another big chance to do that by helping to put the 5th War Loan drive over the top, Jim."
"And, in addition, we must be sure that,
while they're away and can't express their opinions, we don't go voting on and deciding any things that will displease them when they come back."

Theatre Prevues

Lovely Ann Sheridan co-stars with Dennis Morgan in "SHINE ON HARVEST MOON" at the Bayne Theatre on Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3. Jack Carson and Irene Manning are in the supporting cast. There are 24 songs, 18 of them old ones which are guaranteed to produce nostalgia, and six original numbers in the score.

The joy and the heartbreak, the glamour and sordidness of life backstage in the early days of the American theatre form the background for "SHINE ON HARVEST MOON" the new Warner Bros. musical based on the life of Nora Bayes.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Rita Hayworth, Gene Kelly, Lee Bowman and Phil Silvers will be seen in "COVER GIRL," filmed in Technicolor. The kind of entertainment that gets into your feet, your throat and your heart and sets you tingling all over with joyous warmth. It will send you out of the theater humming, and laughing and loving life. An enchanting love story with matchless melodies, lilted lyrics and delightful new comedy.

"LADIES COURAGEOUS" starring Loretta Young, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Anne Gwynne and Diana Barrymore. This film tells the thrilling and daring story of the WAFS and of the 25 young American women flyers who originally formed this organization in 1942, so that the Army pilots could be released for overseas combat duty.

At the Roland "WEEK-END PASS" will lead off with the entertainment for the week on Friday and Saturday. Martha O'Driscoll, Noah Beery, Jr., George Barbier and Andrew Tombes will be seen in the leading roles in this hearty and hilarious new comedy musical. Also Bill Elliott in "BORDER GUNFIGHT."

Sunday and Monday "O, MY DARLING CLEMENTINE" will be the attraction. Frank Albertson, Isabel Randolph and Roy Acuff and His Smoky Mountain Boys and Girls.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday there will be a double feature. "SO'S YOUR UNCLE" with Billy Burke, Donald Woods, Elyse Knox and Frank Jenks in the leading roles. This is a gay musical comedy of misplaced identities.

Also Bill Elliott in "ACROSS THE SIERRAS." Blazini action marks this new Western thriller in which Elliott collects bad men souvenirs.

BOOKS TO OWN

"Fair Stood the Wind for France" by Squadron Leader H. E. Bates is said to be the first novel to be passed by the censor which tells in any detail what happens to those bombing crews who are brought down behind the German lines.

The scene of "Fair Stood the Wind for France" (which is a June Book-of-the-Month Club selection) is in France, in 1941, when there was still an occupied and unoccupied zone. Four men are returning from a bombing mission to Italy, when something goes wrong with the plane, and they are forced down. A French family hides them in an old mill. O'Connor, who has a native distrust of everything in any way French, thinks they should get out fast. The Captain, Franklin, whose arm has been severely hurt in it's crash, rules that they stay.

The two youngest airmen are the first to be sent out on the perilous route that will lead them to safety. Franklin, whose arm had become gangrenous and who must undergo an amputation performed at night by two brave French doctors, is the last. When he does leave, the daughter of the household, Fanioise, goes with him, knowing that handicapped as he is, he will not be able to make the journey alone.

At the border of Spain, by a strongly ironic twist, O'Connor — the same who hates all things French — gives his life to save the French girl. And so the story ends.

H. E. Bates, author of "Fair Stood the Wind for France," was born in the English Midlands 39 years ago. He began writing at the age of 17, as junior reporter on a country newspaper. Two years later he had finished his second book, and it was followed by ten others in as many years. At the beginning of the war, he joined up with the R. A. F. and ever since he has lived with those fighting men, messed with them, talked with them. His book of short stories about the Royal Air Force, published here under the title of "There's Something in the Air," as well as his new novel, reveal his wonderful insight into the minds of the boys who fly the Hurricanes and the Spitfires.

Contrary to what most of us are taught about Holland, the Dutch don't skate in wooden shoes, says David Cornel de Jong, in his autobiography, "With a Dutch Accent." They use leather ones, for others just wouldn't stay on. The average Dutch boy and girl learns skating at the age of four, and keeps it up all his life. An exception was David's grandmother, who when she was in her sixties, announced that she would no longer go out on the rinks. At that age, she hinted, one considered one's dignity. But because she still felt the need of exercise, she took up bicycling.

Health Notes

PAINELESS DENTISTRY

"The process of extracting a tooth, in these days of anaesthetics, usually is painless. Local anaesthetics for grown-ups and complete anaesthesia for children are the usual procedures followed by the dentist," states Dr. J. C. Riggins, State Health Commissioner.

"However, the fact that tooth extraction under and anesthetic generally is without pain, by no means diminishes the significant fact that it is an operation. Teeth rely upon blood for proper nourishment and are imbedded in the soft tissues of the jaw. Proper surgical practices therefore must be supplemented by carefully following the mouth-hygiene instructions of the dentist after the tooth has been removed. Infection after the tooth has been extracted is a possibility if the patient fails to cooperate fully with the dentist in this respect."

Tooth extraction, especially in populated districts, is now viewed largely as a specialty. Cities and large towns, therefore, have dentists who limit their practice to this type of work. The family dentist often refers his cases to this specialist. Of course, quite properly, a number of general dental practitioners have made themselves proficient in this type of work limiting their referrals to the complicated case. Moreover, this is the usual situation, for obvious reasons, in rural localities.

"Consequently, while painless extraction is the usual practice, the patient should realize that surgical efficiency and strict compliance on the patient's part to post-operative personal mouth-care as indicated by the dentist are most important factors when it becomes necessary to lose a tooth.

"It may be added that many of the conditions, though by no means all of them, which make necessary the removal of teeth, can be prevented by proper daily mouth-hygiene and the twice-a-year visit to the family dentist's office. Lost teeth are too big and costly a penalty to pay for carelessness of this kind, though many persons fail to appreciate this fact until it is too late."

HELP WIN BATTLES, SAVE A BAG A DAY

Virginia's 627,659 housewives could conserve enough paper daily to make 32,691 containers for 75 mm. shells by saving one paper grocery bag a day, according to an announcement by Howard Conley, director of the conservation division of the War Production Board. This daily paper saving would amount to 58,843 pounds.

"The paper shortage is creating a critical scarcity of bags in grocery stores," Mr. Conley explained. "So far during the emergency, bags have been available because of inventories and the elimination of variety bags, but in the future stores will have to depend entirely upon current reduced production and buyers' cooperation.

Food buyers and other shoppers are asked to conserve bags by having several items put in one sack, bringing their own bags for re-use, or carrying home packaged items unwrapped. Housewives are not asked to return bags for re-use by others than themselves. If all housewives in the United States saved one ounce-and-a-half bag each day, the saving would amount to nearly 600,000 tons annually.

Ration Stamp Change
B-2 and C-3 gasoline ration coupons — the old type B and C rations, without serial numbers — will be invalid for use by retail buyers on and after June 1, Dr. Bright announced.

Service stations will have until June 10 to turn them in to their suppliers or exchange them at their boards for inventory coupons, while distributors will have until June 20 to deposit the voided stamps. The holder of such unused coupons may take them to his local rationing board for exchange.

We seem always to be looking backward to good times or forward to good times.

Hotel, Camps Report

A seasonal operator of a summer of winter hotel, summer camp, or similar institutional user of rationed foods henceforth must give his local War Price and Rationing Board a report on the exact number of days he operates in the final ration allotment period of his season, Dr. Bright announced.

County Poultrymen Praised as Larger Use of Eggs Urged

Princess Anne County poultrymen are asked by the government to produce approximately 386,504 dozen eggs this year as their part in the Food for Victory program, the National Poultry Defense Committee announced today.

This county goal can best be reached if housewives take full advantage of the present egg surplus and plan more menus calling for greater use of eggs, thus encouraging farmers to maintain high production, declared Committee Secretary Leon Todd.

In urging poultrymen to meet the 1944 quota, Todd pointed out the current egg abundance may be followed by a serious shortage if farmers liquidate some of their laying flocks because of inability to dispose of eggs at profitable prices now.

An aid to producers is the concerted effort of distributors to keep the supply of eggs flowing steadily into consumer channels as a nutritious wartime food, Todd said, adding that aggressive merchandising has thus proved an important factor in increasing egg consumption. "For instance," he asserted, "records of A & P Food Stores, one of the larger purchasers of Virginia eggs, show this company bought 497,490 dozen eggs in the state last year, topping their 1942 purchases by nearly 60 per cent and paying Old Dominion producers $109,768 more than during the previous year."

Even greater cooperation by distributors and consumers is needed now, the poultry official said, to assure farmers a profitable market for their surplus production during the next few weeks and thus insure that a feast will not be followed by a famine. "Each of us can help," he concluded, "by eating more eggs during this period. Remember they are a 'whole' food, complete with proteins, essential vitamins, fats and minerals."

Extra Farm Gas Office workers, businessmen, housewives and others who volunteer for spare-time labor or farms and in food processing plants this summer may receive special gasoline rations to take them to and from the places where the labor is needed, Dr. Bright announced.

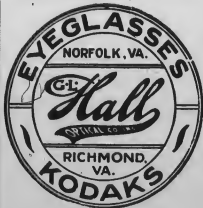

Gasoline for this purpose will be made available in areas where shortage of labor has made it necessary for the government to sponsor an organized plan to supply agricultural and food processing establishments with labor to harvest or process seasonal crops. Dr. Bright will designate special boards in these areas to consider applications.

It must be difficult for children to comprehend the innocence of their parents.

Princess Anne Tax Rates Cut In New Budget

Tax rates will be reduced five to 50 cents in all districts of Princess Anne County except the town of Virginia Beach for the fiscal year beginning July 1 in the budget adopted by the board of supervisors yesterday.

Increased allocations by the State for public schools and surpluses in debt funds of the various magisterial districts will make the tax cut possible, despite an increase in expenditures of $50,000 over the current year.

The new budget totals $454,806 against $405,497 for the current year. Virtually all the increase is represented in an expanded school program. More than half the amount of the budget — $255,155 — is set aside for schools, against $209,742 for the current year, a boost of $45,413. Teachers' salaries represent an advance of more than

Sugar for Home Canning
Sugar consumers may apply for their 1944 home canning allotment in two periods, the Office of Price Administration reports. In each period, users may obtain up to 10 pounds of sugar per person in addition to five pounds available with Sugar Stamp 40 in War Ration Book 4. Persons not applying in the first period but who need sugar in the second period, may obtain up to their full 20-pounds-per-person allowance if the application justifies that total.

Plentiful Foods
Eggs, white potatoes, canned peas and canned green and wax beans will be in plentiful supply throughout most of the country during June, the War Food Administration reports. Other plentiful foods now include: oranges; frozen vegetables; frozen baked beans; peanut butter; citrus marmalade; raisins; dried prunes; dry-mix and dehydrated soups; soya flour, grits and flakes; wheat flour and bread; macaroni; spaghetti; noodles; oatmeal; and rye breakfast foods.

Proper Methods for Home Canning
The "open kettle" method and the "oven" method of home canning cannot be depended on to kill harmful bacteria in food, say canning specialists in the Department of Agriculture, and in addition oven canning has caused serious accidents when jars explode. The specialists recommend that fruits, tomatoes, and pickled vegetables be precooked and packed boiling hot in hot jars, with lids adjusted correctly, then processed in a boiling water bath canner with sufficient water to cover the jars. Peas, beans and other non-acid vegetables should be packed in the same way, but processed in a steam pressure canner. Some of the 400,000 new steam pressure canners authorized by WPB for the canning season are now available in certain areas in the South and others should be available throughout the country before long. Many community food preservation centers provide local home canners with equipment and supervised instructions on proper canning.

Roy Barnes, Hal Halstead and Fred Haycox Seeking; Ewell, Capps, Murray Incumbents

Tuesday, June 13 will see the election of three members to the Town Council. These members will go into office in September. J. D. Ewell, C. H. Capps and P. F. Murray are the three incumbents who will seek re-election. Roy A. Barnes, Hal Halstead and Fred A. Haycox are the three new names on the ballot for election.

From all accounts the candidates have conducted a "silent" campaign with no public speeches.

Buddy Guy To Instruct In Water Safety

Monday, June 12th, Red Cross Water Safety Course is to be offered to all over 16 years of age, announced Mrs. Gerould Rumble, chairman of Water Safety. This course will be taught by Mr. Buddy Guy, qualified Water Safety Instructor, who is volunteering his services through the Chapter. All persons interested are urged to be present at 6 o'clock, P.M., Monday June 12th on the water front at 26th street in front of the Albemarle Hotel. This group will meet regardless of the weather.

This course is particularly important with the many visitors we will have this summer who are unfamiliar with ocean bathing.

Seaside Park Attracts Large Crowds Nightly

150 "Actors" To Appear In Boardwalk Show

Merry making crowds turned out en masse this week end to make this resort see a banner crowd taking in all the rides and games, and enjoying the bathing.

Bubbles Becker and his broadcast orchestra is still turning them away at Art Lewis' Frolics ballroom.

The management is making arrangements to augment this attraction with special features, which will be announced shortly.

Great excitement this week as one hundred and fifty actors moved into Seaside Park, and are getting ready to appear in a new boardwalk show, which will open this week end.

This is only one of the many surprises that the management has for this season. This troupe is busily engaged in going through their paces so that they can give a finished performance, but folks don't you get excited they are only one hundred and fifty performing MICE that will appear in the MOUSE CIRCUS.

Philip Rogerson To Preach At London Bridge

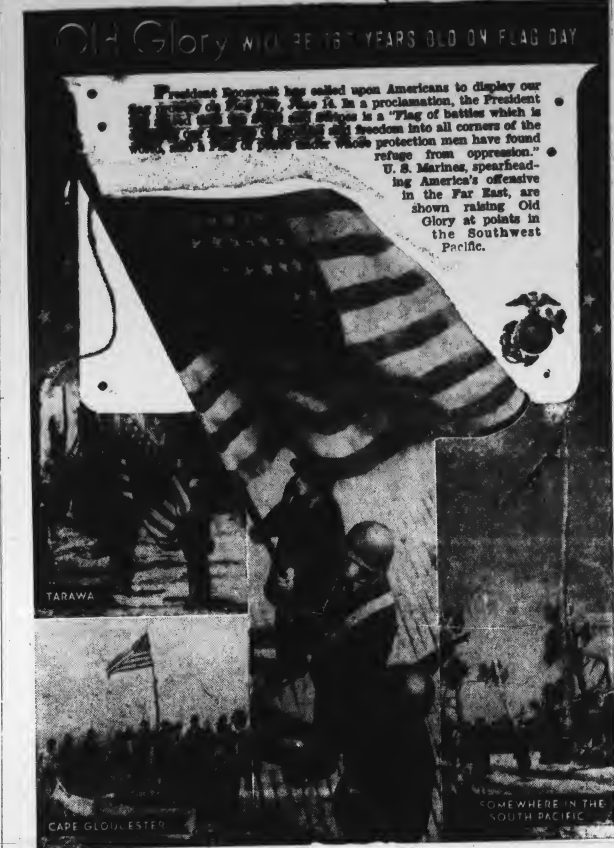

Philip Rogerson will preach at the London Bridge Baptist Church, Sunday, June 11, at the morning and evening services.

Mr. Rogerson graduated at Georgetown College, Georgetown, Kentucky on Tuesday, June 6th. He plans to enter the Baptist Ministry in Louisville, Kentucky in September.

While at college he held the pastorate of two churches. He plans to continue such pastorates during the summer and while a student at the seminary.

Mr. Rogerson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rogerson, London Bridge, Virginia. He attended Oceana High School and received his diploma from there in June, 1940.

While at Oceana, he took part in activities of the school. He was on the Annual Staff, Editor of the Newspaper, President of the Beta Club, a member of the Student Council and a representative of the school in Public Speaking.

President Requests United Nations Flags Be Shown

In his proclamation naming June 14 as Flag Day, President Roosevelt this year directed Federal officials and requested officials of State and local governments to have the United States flag displayed on public buildings. At the same time, he urged people to fly the flag from their homes, arranging where possible for joint displays of the emblems of the United Nations.

The first forerunner of the present American flag was the Grand Union flag, often called the "Congress Colors." This flag consisted of 13 stripes, alternately red and white, representing the 13 colonies, with a blue field in the upper left corner bearing the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew. This banner was first flown at the staffs of the colonial fleet in the Delaware river in December, 1775.

The Grand Union flag was the standard of the Continental Army when it was formed in January, 1776, and was carried by Marines and American bluejackets in an expeditionary force in the West Indies that same year.

Betsy Ross Gets Flag Sketch
In the summer of 1776, when a group of patriots visited the shop of Mrs. Betsy Ross, Philadelphia needlewoman, they carried with them the rough sketch for a flag resembling the Grand Union flag, but with the crosses of St. Andrew and St. George replaced by a union of 13 stars forming a circle on a blue field.

On June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted a resolution: "That the flag of the 13 United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be 13 stars, white on a blue field, representing a new constellation."

The resolution did not prescribe the arrangement of stars, but, according to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, the arrangement generally adopted by flag-makers had 13 stars in a circle. The Smithsonian Institution has on exhibit two other arrangements of the 13 stars. One arrangement has 12 stars in the circle, with a thirteenth in the center of the circle. Another arrangement, in use from 1783-1785, has the stars in horizontal parallel rows, with three stars on the first row, and with alternate rows of two and three above, each star being placed directly above a space rather than a star.

Register Vacant Rooms At USO

Urgent Need For Accommodations In Lower Price Bracket

The Information Committee of the U. S. O., which has charge of room registration, is making a special appeal to citizens to list available rooms for rent with them. Mrs. J. P. Grimes, who heads up the group, pointed out that the need at this time is greater than ever before, because of the large number of visiting wives and sweethearts of service men stationed in this area. Coming at the same time as the rush season for the hotels at the Beach, a serious problem is arising. Even those having rooms available only part of the time are urged to register them with the U. S. O. The real need for accommodations in the lower price brackets was also emphasized in order that as many as possible may be served fairly.

Call the U. S. O., Virginia Beach 2296 or 2297, to list rooms.

Garden Club To Hold Last Meet With Mrs. H. Old

The final meeting for the current season of the Princess Anne Garden Club will be held on Monday, June 12 at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Hallie C. Old in Lynnhaven. Miss Elizabeth Gregory Hill, president will preside. Mrs. Roland Thorpe, Horticultural Chairman, will be in charge of a flower show to be made by the members of the club. There will be specimens, exhibits and arrangements presented. The club will disband for the summer months and meetings will be resumed in September.

O. P. A. HOLDS MEETING AT SEASIDE PARK

The divisional meeting of the O. P. A. was held at Seaside Park, Tuesday, June 6th, and was attended by fifty members who discussed business. The meeting was in charge of Hal Halstead.

Men's Classes To Disband For Summer Months

The Men's Bible Class which has been meeting each Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Church will hold its last meeting for the summer on Sunday, June 11. On September 10 the class will again convene under the leadership of Gerould M. Rumble. This class has been functioning for several months with an enrollment of 60 men and an average attendance of 33. The Men's Supper Club will also disband for several months and will meet again in the fall on Wednesday, September 27th at the usual hour.

The Czechs were warned that they must be prepared for a concentrated air attack whenever they were working entirely for the German armed forces, the Czechoslovak Information Service reports. They were told to get away from such places and thus impede their production so that the factories wouldn't be worth bombing.

FIFTH WAR LOAN DRIVE OPENS JUNE 12TH; QUOTAS ASSIGNED

Mrs. Jordan To Attend C. of C. Institute

Richmond — Mrs. Grace Olin Jordan, Secretary of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce, has been awarded the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce scholarship for attendance at the Southeastern Institute for Commercial Organization Executives. The institute will be held at Greensboro, North Carolina, this year, and more than two hundred secretaries of chambers of commerce throughout the South expect to attend. It will be held from June 18 through 24.

Verbon E. Kemp, executive secretary of the State Chamber announced the decision of the judges, B. F. Moomaw, of Roanoke, J. Vaughan Gary, president of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce at Richmond, and L. P. Dickie, of the United States Chamber of Commerce offices in Atlanta.

Mrs. Jordan has served the Virginia Beach Chamber for the last two years, during the absence in federal service of Don T. Schwall, secretary on leave. Indications point to a large enrollment from Virginia at the conference, Mr. Kemp said today.

Red Cross Motor Corps Aids Local Police

24 Members Gave 640 Hours Of Service To Aid With Beach Traffic

Mrs. C. A. Thompson, chairman of the Motor Corps, announced the completion of Motor Corps duty in cooperation with the Police Department in helping with the school traffic. During this time 640 hours of service were given by 24 members of the Motor Corps throughout the school term. This group will add to its duties in assisting with transportation for the Canteen Corps when the canteen service is inaugurated at the request of the Army at the Army Air Base, beginning June 13th. Transfers from other Chapters are urged to volunteer their services with the Princess Anne Chapter which they are in this vicinity.

NEWS OF OUR MEN—WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Two Finish Basic
Joseph Daniel Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allen, of Oceana, and husband of Hilda Ricks Allen, of Route 1, Norfolk, and Howard Samuel Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Myers, of 316 Twenty-fifth street, Virginia Beach, have completed the nine weeks' basic flying course at Strother, Kans., Army Air Field, and have been assigned to an advanced training school.

Parker Gets Pilot's Wings
Second Lieutenant Everett H. Parker, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Parker, Glenrock, Princess Anne County, received his pilot's wings and was commissioned at the Blytheville, Ark., Army Air Field. A graduate of Kempsville High School, he attended Norfolk College and Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary, and was employed by the Southern States Cooperative prior to entering the service in February, 1943. He was secretary of the Order of Fraternal Americans.

In Bombardier School
Thomas R. Trant, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Trant, Great Neck Road, London Bridge, is a cadet at the bombardier school, Midland, Texas, Army Air Field. Trant, who attended Woodberry Forest for two years, was a freshman at the University of North Carolina when he entered the service in February, 1943.

$550,000 Goal For Princess Anne County; I. N. London To Assist Local Committee

In many communities the 5th War Loan got under way with the announcement of "D" Day. The inspiration of the war news of such great import was a spur to greater buying. Officially the drive gets underway on June 13th.

The coming drive presents the toughest job our country has ever faced. There is a total of $16,000,000,000 with $6,000,000,000 to be raised from individuals and this is a gigantic task.

The overall quota for Virginia is $157,000,000. The 4th Campaign exceeded the $149,000,000 quota. The E Bond quota for Virginia is 46 million.

To narrow the drive down to Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach the quota is $550,000 with the E Bond quota of $325,000. Floyd Kellam will again act as chairman for Princess Anne County with Russell Hatchett and Claiborne Bryant as vice-chairmen. The committee in charge is fortunate in having the assistance of I. N. London, Deputy Manager of Region 1 of the War Finance Committee, to assist in the local drive. A meeting will be called of other committeemen prior to the official opening of the drive.

Today armies of the United Nations, among whom are thousands of Virginians and many boys from Princess Anne County, are in the midst of the greatest event of the war — The Invasion. Those fighting men and women are in the gigantic task of crushing the mighty Nazi military machine and are willing, if need be, to sacrifice their lives in the cause for which they are fighting.

"The call of the Fifth War Loan, therefore, is a call for deep personal sacrifice. It is a clarion message from the far-flung fighting fronts for a self-sacrifice of our own pocketbooks, our own bank accounts and our other resources. It is a call for self-denial until it hurts — to stand side by side with our fighting soldiers and make the greatest sacrifice we can in the interest of their own safety and the high cause for which they are willing to give their all. The least sacrifice we can make is to lend all the money we can possibly spare in the greatest and soundest investment in America — War Bonds."

Cadet Howard S. Myers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Myers, 316 25th street, and formerly an aircraft mechanic for the Middletown Air Depot, began the final period of pilot training at this advanced two-engine school of the Army Air Forces Training Command. After a few more weeks of intensive training on the ground and in the air he will receive the coveted silver wings of a bomber pilot and become a flying officer in the Army Air Forces.

John D. Leitch, Jr.
Lieut. (jr) John D. Leitch, Jr., USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Leitch, of "Wychey," Lynnhaven, has been promoted to senior grade lieutenant. He is stationed in the Southwest Pacific where he has been for more than one year. He holds a B. A. and a law degree from the University of Virginia, and entered the navy in February, 1942. His brother-in-law, Comdr. Charlton L. Murphy, Jr., of Philadelphia, husband of the former Miss Barbara Leitch, is also in the Pacific.

Thomas A. Watson
Lieut. Thomas A. Watson, of the USMCR, of Gordonsville, formerly in charge of the Cavalier Stables at Virginia Beach, was chatting with a messman aboard ship during a lull in enemy attacks in the Southwest Pacific recently. "How do you feel?" asked Watson, veteran of Cape Gloucester and Guadalcanal. "Lieutenant, I'm 21 years old. In the last half hour I've added 25 years. That makes me 46. Another day of this and I know I'll be 71!" the messman replied. Lieut. Watson has been decorated four times for bravery, wears the Navy Cross, the Silver Star, an Oak Leaf Cluster and the Pacific Citation.

FLAG DAY

One hundred and sixty-seven years ago — on June 14, 1777 —
 the Continental Congress passed the resolution providing for the Stars and Stripes as the National Emblem.

Those were dark days.
 The Colonies, battling for their Independence against overwhelming odds, faced bitter months —
 months when, to those faint in spirit, it appeared at times that Independence with the New Flag that was its symbol was only a futile dream.

And then came October of 1781
 and the defeat of Cornwallis at Yorktown where De Grasse and the French fleet patrolled the Chesapeake Bay.

The French and American armies were drawn up in two long lines on that historic field and the British troops marched out between them while their hands played the old British air, "The World Turned Upside Down."

In both England and America
 everyone realized that day that the surrender of Cornwallis meant the end. For a year longer the British held the ports of Charleston and New York, until terms of peace
 were arranged; but the fighting was over and American Independence had been won.

June 14 is Flag Day.
 In every city and village and hamlet throughout the land, the Stars and Stripes will be unfurled
 in commemoration of the 167th anniversary of its birth.

That Flag when it was authorized by the Continental Congress was more than the symbol of a Nation.
 It was then — and it is today —
 the symbol of a New Way of Life.
 Let us keep it so.

These are dark days.
 That tune the hands played on the field at Yorktown in 1781 might well be played today, for the world is, indeed, turned upside down.

There is need now, as then, for real patriotism and a dedication to the principles of Liberty and Freedom that are signified by The Stars and Stripes.

GRUDGE BEARERS

Did you ever stop to analyze a grudge? Look it in the eye the next time you start to feed the one you have been nursing along for years.
 Chances are you'll find it has gotten you nothing, that it has hurt you more than the grudgee, that it has kept alive memories you would be happier without.

Some one has said, "Bearing grudges is a sign of meanness." It makes you sour and inclined to do unto others what you think was done to you. Your self-confidence may be undermined and your faith
 in others shaken as long as you keep the grudge alive.

'Tis time for spring cleaning,
 throw out the old grudge, face facts
 and see just what it is doing to
 you. Honest analysis is the best technique for ridding yourself of a grudge.

WHAT IS AMERICA.

By Ruth Taylor
 What is America? What is the intangible thing that binds people of all creeds, all nationalities, into one homogeneous whole?
 The answer was given in this morning's metropolitan newspapers

by two of the greatest living Americans — two men whose lives have been devoted to their country, whose talents have ever been at the call of their fellow citizens, whose unselfish devotion to the ideals of democracy have never been questioned.

First Marian Blake Stone, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, in accepting the degree of Doctor of Laws from Yeshiva College, a Jewish Theological Seminary, said:

"Man lives by symbols. Truly these are times of shifting standards and moral confusion. This is due more than all else to the fact that man, despite his struggle up from barbarism is not yet willing to accept the truth, that there can be no civilized society, there can be no peace, or happiness among men, unless all men enjoy freedom of the spirit of mind, and, unless we preserve intact our capacity for moral indignation against cruelty and injustice and the urge to give it vigorous expression."

The same night Bernard Baruch
 in accepting the annual award
 given by The Churchman, an Episcopal paper, expressed the same idealism and faith in the American spirit in these words:

"In another day Cicero said the proudest boast a man could utter was 'Civis Romanus sum' (I am a Roman citizen). It is my prayer that our conduct may always be such as to carry greater praise in the accolade: 'I am an American.'"
 "One last word. Some ask why we fight? This is my answer:

"Ancient Rights, unnoticed as the breath we draw,
 Leave to live by no man's leave, Underneath the law."

That is what America is — a homeland for all who believe in the Fatherhood of God and in the Brotherhood of Man, for those who have high courage, who stand ever ready to life their voices against injustice, to fight cruelty and to demonstrate in their lives their friendship for their fellow men.
 This faith made America. Through this faith America grew. By this faith America will live.

GO OUT AND VOTE

Only a few days are left until the Councilman election June 13.
 It is only natural
 that the interest that might be aroused
 in normal times, but never-the-less,
 the public should not neglect to take advantage of its privilege and go out and vote. Voting is not only a privilege, it is a duty.

Too many people in this day and time leave the running of the government to a few. Every man and woman of voting age in this country is in a sense a stockholder.
 They should act to see that it is managed efficiently and for the benefit of the entire citizenship. A partnership or corporation would not exist long in the business world
 if the stockholders, the owners, did not take an interest.

Sometimes people are heard to remark: "What difference does it make." It matters a great deal. Government from the smallest municipality to the Federal Government, needs experienced and qualified men as officers. One shortcoming of local self-government in America has been the lack of men with training suiting them for posts with government, and as a result much has been left to the lawyers and professional politicians often to the sorrow of the citizens.

How to vote is a matter for the individual, and in the case of local office seekers, we do not attempt to tell anyone how to vote. But there are some factors that should be considered when one goes to the polls. One is that the voter should study the record of the person seeking office from every source available and cast his vote for the one that to him seems best qualified to serve in the office for which he is a candidate. The character, the educational background, the ideas, and their community life are factors to be considered.

Citizens should mark June 13,
 their calendars and go out at that time and cast their vote for the persons whom they think can best serve them in the halls of government. It is not only your privilege, one which you are fortunate to have, but it is a duty which you owe, not only to your community
 but to yourself.

As Others See It

THE WACS
 ARE DOING A GOOD JOB

Two years ago, on May 15, 1942,
 the Woman's Army Corps was formed, originally as an auxiliary.
 Two years can be a long time in war; much has happened since the organization was first formed. It was two years ago that Corregidor fell. The Germans still were going east toward Stalingrad and the Japs were going south toward Australia. America had made only a start on the long, hard road of war,

 but the Wacs had their part in that beginning.

The Wacs first demonstrated their merit in this country. The word "Auxiliary" was dropped from the name, and the Woman's Army Corps became a real part of the Army. Today its members are on non-combat duty in England, Italy, North Africa, Australia, India and Hawaii.

In this country, Wacs are serving shoulder to shoulder with their brothers in khaki. In virtually all of North Carolina's army camps,
 these feminine soldiers are doing
 a fine job, in a wide variety of positions, as camp commanders testify.
 Most recent among these camps to receive its first contingent of Air Wacs was the AAF overseas Replacement Depot at Greensboro.

The Woman's Army Corps has accomplished much in the last two years. We salute it as it goes in its third year with the conviction that,
 still growing, it will do much more to shorten the remaining war period of all of us.

GRATUITIES COME HIGH

"American workmen are watching their pay checks and today
 they find a substantial and growing difference between their rate of pay and what is taken home," says David B. Robertson, President of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. "We wonder if such government procedure will eventually give a rate of pay of $50 a week to the man in the cab of a locomotive and permit him to take home only $10 a week."

Brother, you have asked a question which has a simple answer:
 The more any workman expects the government to do for him —
 in other words, the more handouts
 he seeks on the theory that the government can do something for him which he cannot do for himself, or which cannot be done by his fellow citizens — the less he will have left in his pay check, regardless of its size.

Government can give the individual nothing in the shape of gratuities, which it first does not extract

cal care, or whatnot — the cost will come out of the pay check, and the less the individual will be able to do for himself.

The price of financial dependence on government is the loss of individual independence.

And whether the gratuity be called social security, free electricity, food subsidies, socialized medicine, or anything else, the taxpayer must pay for it. The more it gives, the higher the taxes.

BEHIND THE BATTLEFRONTS

Battery Shortage in Australia

New motorcar batteries cannot be bought in Australia without a permit, and they are available only to users with high priorities, the Australian News and Information Bureau says. The shortage of batteries is becoming more serious than the lack of tires, since tires could be fixed to last longer while a failing battery cell will cause rapid deterioration.

Nazis Offer Gasoline for Feathers

Pillow feathers in Hungary and the Balkan countries are so scarce
 that the Nazis are offering a gallon of gasoline for 15 cents' worth of feathers, according to a Swiss newspaper article reported to the OWI.

New Parachute for RCAF Fliers

R.C.A.F. fliers have now a new type fool proof parachute which are more comfortable and less costly than the old type, the Canadian War-time Information Board announces. Each flier has his own harness, but no longer needs to wear
 the cumbersome parachute pack.
 In the cockpit of his aircraft, the flier finds the pack waiting on the seat and when the flight is finished the pack is left there for the next flier.

Long ago we learned how to make a little food go a long way,
 but we overlooked learning how to get a week's wear out of one shirt,
 without laundering.

A NATION'S PRAYER

Let's pause and bow our heads in prayer

For those in peril, "Over There";
 And while we pray on bended knee,
 Make a suppliant, earnest plea
 That they may do a glorious part,
 And put the foe to flight at start.
 May a merciful Heaven guide them
 As a soldier would have it done;
 Give each the courage to do his best
 Until the battle's won;
 Smooth out the pillow of the dead,
 And heal each fevered wound;
 Send them home to a grateful land
 To claim a victor's crown.
 O Heavenly Father, help us
 Who remain at home today;
 Guide us, and give us the strength
 To do

But half so well as they;
 And aid us with our share;
 Give us the will, O God above,
 To back those, "Over There."

The foregoing poem by Julian R.
 Hume drifted into the hands of the editor of the NEWS and unbeknown to the author we take the liberty of publishing it.

Mr. Hume, a former resident of Virginia Beach, and at one time
 editor of the Virginia Beach News,
 served as a 1st Lieut. in World War
 I and is a wearer of the Purple Heart. His son, Julian R. Hume,
 Jr., is a 1st Lieut. in the Coast
 Artillery, now stationed at Camp Pendleton.

In the face of the present invasion the sentiments embodied are particularly fitting.

Service News

Word has been received that Sgt.
 Bill Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Jennings of Oceana, is now stationed somewhere in Attu. Sgt.
 Jennings was stationed in Alaska
 and had completed several flying missions before being transferred to Attu. He has been in the service for almost two years and has been overseas for ten months. He recently spent a furlough in Alaska.

James B. Morrison

2nd Lieut. James B. Morrison, A.A.F. and Mrs. Morrison, the former Miss Shirley Blancher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blancher of Seattle, Washington,
 have just completed a short visit to the former's parents, Lt. Comdr.
 Farmer Morrison, U. S. Navy (retired) and Mrs. Morrison at Oceana.

 Lieut. Morrison completed Flight Instruction and received his wings
 as Flight Engineer late in May. He is returning for Tactical Instruction prior to service overseas.

Spy Brothers in Service

Three sons of Mr. and Mrs. H.
 B. Spay of Rt. 1, London Bridge
 are serving in the armed forces.
 Milton, a graduate of the Maritime Service is now overseas. Elbert is now in training at Hoffman Island,
 New York and Norman is 1C/EM
 in U. S. Navy. Norman has recently been at his home on furlough.

Clyde L. Davis

Starke General Hospital, Charleston, South Carolina, May 26, 1944
 — When the hospital ship Refuge
 docked at Charleston Harbor, it brought 11 Virginia men back from overseas duty. Most of the patients were veterans of the Italian campaign.

The several hundred men who arrived on the Refuge are now quarantined at Stark General Hospital, Charleston, S. C. where they are enjoying the advantages of American food and atmosphere
 until they are evacuated, to inland hospitals nearer their homes, on to general hospitals for specific treatment.

Among those brought back from the overseas combat area was 1st Lieutenant Clyde L. Davis of 53rd street.

James Otis Wright

The promotion of James Otis
 Wright of the Army Air Forces
 from the rank of Major to Lieut.
 Colonel was announced recently by the War Department. A former resident of Norfolk and Virginia Beach and a graduate of Maury
 High School, Colonel Wright now resides in Alexandria and is stationed at the Pentagon Building, Arlington, where he is executive officer to Brig. General Byron E.
 Gates, Chief of the Office of Management and Control which serves as an advisory body to the chief of staff.

Colonel Wright's wife is the former Alice Dickinson Croom of Evergreen, Alabama. They have a daughter, Alice Croom, age 2.

Staff-Serg. Howard P. Ives

Staff-Serg. Howard P. Ives, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ives, of London Bridge, who has been stationed in England for twenty-two months

 writes that he is now living in a private home and having a grand time visiting historical places while on leave. Sgt. Ives is a member of the Virginia National Guard and is in the Signal Corp. He has been in the service for over three years.

Funerals

Joseph Thomas Talbot

Joseph Thomas Talbot, of Braxville, N. Y., formerly of Virginia Beach, died at his home on Tuesday, June 6. He was 48 years old. The son of the late Joseph Thomas and Mary Castlemen Talbot. The remains were taken from the H. D.
 Oliver Funeral Apartments in Norfolk to Eastern Shore Chapel, at Oceana, where the services were conducted at 4 o'clock Thursday by the Rev. Stiles Lines, rector of Galilee Episcopal Church, Virginia Beach. Interment was in the Eastern Shore Chapel Cemetery.

The pall bearers were: Robert J.
 Throckmorton, Payton May, George Butts, Clifford Gerold, Edward Heden, Gene Roy and Frank Struff.
 Mr. Talbot is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mildred Ryan Talbot, formerly of Virginia Beach, and one daughter, Mary Councilman Talbot.

Veterans Quickly Find Jobs
 Of the 11,516 veterans who applied for jobs, 6,361 found work immediately during a demonstration program opened in January by the U. S. Employment Service, the War Manpower Commission announced. This service for veterans will be continued and expanded to USES local offices throughout the country, where veterans will be permitted to "shop around" before deciding on a job. Job opportunities for physically handicapped veterans from this war will be better than they were for the handicapped veterans of the last war, in the opinion of WMC, based on recent studies. Placements of handicapped workers in 1943 were approximately seven times the number placed in 1940. A large proportion of the physically handicapped require only careful job placement.
 Veterans will be hired in OPA offices and boards throughout the country as rapidly as vacancies occur. About 2,500 vacancies occur each month.

You realize how low these

Theatre Prevues

"THE PURPLE HEART," a 20th Century Fox production, starring Dana Andrews, Richard Conte, Farley Granger and Donald Barry will open at the Bayne Theatre on Friday and Saturday, June 3rd and 4th. This is the fighting mad story of Yanks bombing Tokyo. Put on trial by Japs for murder — not as prisoners of war.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Marjorie Reynolds, Dennis O'Keefe, Gail Patrick and Micha Auer will be starred in "UP IN MABLE'S ROOM." A real laughable comedy farce.

"TAMPICO," starring Edward G. Robinson, Lynn Bari, Victor McLaglin and Robert Bailey will be the feature for Wednesday and Thursday. The story of a man and a girl — torn from each other by seething suspicion, bound to each other by furious love. On a sea aflame with high adventure.

At the Roland on Friday and Saturday there will be a double feature — Hugh Sinclair, Jean Gillie, Gordan McLeod and Clifford Evans in "SAINT MEETS THE TIGER." Also William Boyd in "LUMBERJACK." A line action picture.

Sunday and Monday, "COWBOY CANTEN," starring Charles Starrett, Jane Frazee, Vera Vague and Tex Ritter will be the attraction. This is a musical extravaganza of the great open places — A joy-filled Western "THE GHOST THAT WALKS ALONE" will be seen Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Arthur Lake, Janis Carter and Lynne Roberts playing the leading roles — Ghosts walk, dead men talk, caps stalk, girls balk and Arthur Lake as a radio sound effects man yells murder and really means it. A real laugh-packed mystery.

Also Dick Foran in "EMPTY HOLSTERS."

CIVILIAN DANCE SET FOR JUNE 28

The next civilian dance will be held in the Recreation Hall Area on Wednesday night, June 28. The last dance under the sponsorship of Lt. Col. Sheehan was such a success that elaborate plans are now under way for a repetition of the affair. Lt. Brown, Post S.S.O. is arranging for the printing and distribution of tickets and all civilians working on the post may secure them from committee representatives or purchase at any pay table June 17.

The Service Unit Band will act as music makers and liquid refreshments will be on hand to appease and to satisfy. Civilians are free to bring whom they choose as escorts. There's going to be plenty of fun.

RED CROSS ASKS FOR LADIES' HELP

Because so many new ladies are coming to Va. Beach from time to time we would like them to know how to get acquainted with other ladies in the Red Cross Chapter here and fill up some of those free hours they must have. Surgical Dressings are badly needed for our men overseas, and they can be made so easily by anyone without previous experience or training in other phases of Red Cross work.

The Fort Story Officers' Club is used for that purpose every Tuesday and Wednesday. Free transportation can be had by signalling the Army School Bus (bearing red and white sign "School Bus") at any corner. It leaves 17th and Atlantic at 9:10 a.m. and goes right to the door. Return can be made once an hour by Cottage Line or at 2 p.m. by the same school bus.

Similar and many other lines of work are carried on at the Headquarters of the Princess Anne County Chapter of the Red Cross in a cottage on Atlantic Avenue near 16th street — Phone 938. Don't just idle away your summer when there is so much to be done.

5th BOND DRIVE NOW UNDERWAY

The Fifth War Loan Drive is now on and everyone in Camp Pendleton is expected to buy at least one War Bond for cash during this drive (1 June through 31 July 1944). We are very anxious that this present drive be a success, (as previous drives have been) not only for the reason that our men must have everything it takes to win this war but as good American citizens, it is up to us to back our Government in any and all undertakings.

HOLLINS' STUDENTS BUY STAMPS AND PURCHASE AMBULANCE FOR ARMY

The United States Army will shortly receive an ambulance, costing $1,700.00, as a gift from the students of Hollins College, Dr. Edward Alfrey of Fredericksburg, State Chairman of the Education

War Savings Committee, has announced. Last October, each student of Hollins pledged to purchase a fixed number of War Savings Stamps each week during the season. Miss Emma Read, Chairman of the Hollins War Savings Committee, reports that the goal of $1,700 has just been reached. These stamps will be converted into cash and a check will be mailed to the United States Treasury. The Special Gifts Division of the Treasury has announced that a citation will be awarded the college. Princess Anne Co. To Receive Funds

Additional Allocations to Secondary System

Richmond, Va., June 1 — With highway revenues for the current fiscal year far exceeding estimates, Highway Commissioner James A. Anderson today announced the immediate allocation of $1,800,000 in additional funds for the Secondary Highway System of the State for the current fiscal year ending June 30th. The funds will be immediately forwarded to the eight construction districts in the following amounts: Bristol, $177,528; Salem, $165,944; Lynchburg, $158,292; Richmond, $152,572; Suffolk, $159,240; Fredericksburg, $95,556; Culpeper, $156,396; Staunton, $143,472. Division of the additional funds is made on the usual four-way ratio basis of Vehicle Miles, Rural Population for 1940, Rural Area and Rural Secondary Road Mileage. Princess Anne County in the Suffolk district will receive $13,404 of these additional funds.

The above amount is in excess of the $5,000,000 which was allocated to the Secondary System at the beginning of the current fiscal year, July 1, 1943, the smallest yet to be allocated. This brings the total for the current year in excess of the amount of $6,000,000 recently allotted for the new fiscal year 1944-45. In making the announcement Gen. Anderson said that if highway revenues should again exceed estimates to any appreciable extent (this is the first time in the history of the System) additional allocations would be made.

Louella Parsons, in "The Gay Liliutee" relates this story of a motion picture producer who has since become famous for his faux pas. The producer asked her if she had attended a certain ball. She replied that she had, that she had worn a new dress, and that "Solomon" in all his glory had nothing on me. "Solomon," the movie producer turned to his wife. "The Solomons, dear," he puzzled. "Do we know any movie people named Solomons?"

Since the war took that five inches off the tail of my shirt I've been slipping into my pants in a hurry.

HOW SOCIAL SECURITY ACCOUNT NUMBERS RELATE TO BENEFITS

More than 1,344,000 men and women in the State of Virginia now have social security account cards. In the years to come, many of these workers will reach the age of 65, retire from their jobs and claim payments of old-age insurance. Others will die, leaving dependents who are entitled to benefits under the Social Security Act. Every worker wants to be sure that he will get the right insurance checks when he grows old, or that his family will receive the right checks in the right amount, if he dies.

Hulcher, manager of the Norfolk office said today that care and attention to this matter of keeping the records straight, now, might very well mean the difference between the right payments and the wrong payments of benefits, later on.

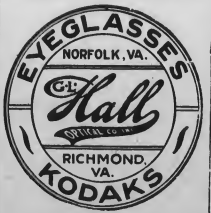

He explained that an individual account is kept for each worker whose name appears on the books of the Social Security Board. The worker's name and a number that is assigned to him by the Board, are printed at the top of his ledger sheet and also written on record cards that are kept on file.

Hulcher stressed the fact that wage data must be accurate, because the amount of benefits to be paid to each qualified claimant is based on a wage record. That is why the Social Security Board takes extra precaution to safeguard the social security account of every wage earner listed on its books. It is also the reason why every employer subject to the law must include in his social security quarter-

Entire Class Promoted At Oceana High

One of the first year classes at Oceana High school has an outstanding record. All members of Miss Ruth Gorton's group passed into the sophomore class which meant that each member of the class passed every subject or as many as three, which entitled them to promotion. Not only was the scholastic record outstanding but the class attendance for the session was 97.35%. Mr. Owen, principal, stated that no doubt the excellent attendance was accountable, in a large measure, for the good grade of work.

Town and Farm In Wartime

Fuel Will Be Scarce This Winter
All fuel — coal, oil, gas and wood — will be scarce this coming winter, the Solid Fuels Administration for War says. There will be a deficit of about 38 million tons of coal. Consumers should order their coal now, during the summer season, and store whatever kind the dealer recommends. Householders using fuel oil should order their supply as soon as their new ration coupons become valid — probably, within the next month. By filling consumers' fuel orders early, dealers will be able to re-fill their own oil tanks or coal stockpiles and thus add to the total storage capacity of the rationed area for use later in the winter. The Solid Fuels Administrator urges all fuel users to help conserve fuel next winter by weatherstripping, insulating and getting heating equipment in good shape now during the summer.

Lard Off Rationing
Because the present supply is deemed adequate to meet all civilian needs, the Office of Price Administration removed all rationing restrictions from lard, effective May 25, Dr. Bright announced.
As a result of the amount of lard that may be obtained by industrial or institutional users were removed, and all record keeping and reporting requirements under OPA regulations were eliminated, Dr. Bright said.

Hog Pricing
The invoicing and receipting, by buyers or sellers, of live hogs weighing more than 240 pounds separately from hogs weighing 240 pounds or less is no longer necessary if a lot of hogs is sold at or below the ceiling prices for heavy-weight hogs, Dr. Bright revealed.

This action was taken by OPA because the weight separating provisions of the live hog regulation were found to be delaying the normal flow of hogs through regular market channels.*

Only 11 Patients Die in Flight
Among 175,527 sick, wounded and injured Americans transported in all parts of the world by Army Air Force planes during 1943, only 11 deaths in flight were recorded, according to the U. S. Army Air Forces Medical Services.

COMMUNITY CANNERY AT OCEANA IN OPERATION WEEKLY

Home Economist to Instruct In Operation of Equipment.

The Community Cannery which was established last August by the County Board of Education and the State Board is in operation again this year in the Vocational Agricultural Building in Oceana.

Each week day from Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. the cannery will operate. Each family or group will do its own canning under the supervision of Mrs. J. M. Hanks, Home Economist, assisted by Mrs. J. C. Boyd and Cornick Hunter. Cans may be purchased from the cannery and the use of the equipment is free of charge.

It is advisable to make appointment by phone or mail as space and equipment are limited and time may be saved if reservations are made specifying the type of food to be canned.

S. B. Myers, telephone Virginia Beach 435-R or P. O. Box 3316, Virginia Beach will take all reservations.

During the time of operation last August and September about 6,000 pints and quarts of food were canned. The plant was in operation only three days each week.

Infant Sanitarium Opens With 18

The Infant Sanitarium opened on June 1 for the 56th season in continuous operation. There are four "toddlers," four babies and ten "fresh air" children. Servicemen in the community have been most generous with their time and talents. The grass is kept cut, a play pen built and many other much needed jobs have been taken care of by volunteers. These jobs are not limited to men in the service. There is great need for volunteers who will give a few hours of time each week. Mending, sewing, caring for and amending the toys as well as other jobs. Any one willing to give a little time to help these children may call the Infant Sanitarium and give their names to the superintendent, Miss Doll.

A Bond-Buying Farmer Writes About War Bonds

By L. M. WALKER, JR.
Commissioner
Dept. of Agriculture and Immigration of Virginia

This war must be financed, and the farmer has proportionately as much at stake as anyone else. The farmer's sons, relatives and friends are on all battle-fronts of the world.

Ample financing should hasten the end of hostilities. War Bonds are the soundest investment we know. Not only from a strictly business management standpoint, farmers should put their spare money into bonds, looking forward to buying needed farm supplies on a more favorable market when the money will go farther. With materials, equipment and supplies so high in price and scarce as at present, it is, in my judgment, unwise to buy more of such articles than is absolutely necessary to our farming operations, and we should conserve what we have. This necessitates postponement of volume buying.

Virginia farmers, and those of the Nation, should be congratulated on the excellent job they have done

Garden Club Has Final Meeting

The Princess Anne Garden Club held its final meeting at the home of Mrs. Hallie C. Old in Lynnhaven on Monday, June 12. Miss Elizabeth Gregory Hill, president, presided. Annual reports were read by Miss Hill and chairman of all standing committees. Mrs. Gustav Friebus, chairman of war bonds, spoke on the current Bond Drive and reported $118,450 to date as the amount of purchases made by the members of the club, during previous drives.

Mrs. Roland Thorpe, Horticultural chairman, gave a talk on control of garden pests in flower and vegetable gardens and on methods of making compost piles. She also spoke on new flowers and vegetables and urged the planting of both.

The exhibits consisted of rare flowers, flowering shrubs and herbs. Those exhibiting were the Misses Josephine Clark, and Evelyn Collins Hill and Mesdames Roland Thorpe, B. D. White, Bagley Walker, and Hallie C. Old.

Members reported the canning from Victory Gardens as under way. On Sunday, June 18, the members of the club will be hostesses at the USO Club from 5 to 7 p.m.

At the conclusion of the meeting tea was served by Mrs. Old the hostess. The next meeting will be held in September.

Camp Pendleton News Items

G. I. Gazette
Major General Morris Visits Camp
Maj. General William H. Morris, Jr., Commanding General, XVIII Corps, Ft. DuPont, Delaware, paid his first visit to Camp Pendleton and the new troops assigned to his command.

The General, accompanied by his aides-de-camp and commanding officers reviewed the various camps, inspected motor-pools, garage rifle ranges, barracks, in fact made a tour of inspection of the entire post and from all accounts was impressed with the meticulous care and attention of the Post.

More Wacs Needed

If one member of the Army out of 20 secured one WAC enlistment then the Army as a whole would be able to recruit 350,000 WAC's. Lt. Colonel Daniel E. Sheehan, Camp Commander calls upon every enlisted man and officer in camp Pendleton to lend effort to the current campaign and to all eligible women he appeals as follows:

"The Women's Army Corps is now an integral part of the Army and a highly essential part of our war effort. Camp Pendleton has three WAC officers who are meeting their responsibilities with efficiency and are rendering valuable service.

Baptist Camp To Open June 20

The Baptist Camp, which has been closed for the past two years due to war conditions, will open its doors to young people of the Baptist Church for the first group of boys, the Junior R. A.'s on Tuesday June 20.

Several years ago the summer campers moved from the mountains of Virginia to the Baptist Lodge on 121st street, which was built for the purpose of a church camp. After one or two years of operation it was deemed advisable to close the camp until such time as military restrictions could be lifted from the area. Approximately 125 boys have been enrolled for the two sessions, June 20 and the following week, June 27. The intermediates will have the lodge on the 27 of June. The Rev. Roy Peterson, pastor of the Virginia Beach Baptist Church will be one of the seven sponsors for the boys.

Following occupancy by the boys the G. A.'s will have their turn for two weeks in July.

Mrs. George Martin of Norfolk is general director.

NEWS OF OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

E. R. HARDEN, III.
Altus (Okla.) Army Air Field—Aviation Cadet Ernest R. Harden, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Harden, Jr., 204 36th street has reported to the AAF Training Command's advanced flying school here to begin the last lap of his military pilot training.

In Altus AAF two-engine training ships he will learn the technique of flying the multi-motored bomber or fighter plane he will be plotting overseas, and in ground school he will further perfect his technical knowledge of combat subjects. Upon graduation 10 weeks later he will be awarded the silver wings of an AAF pilot and appointed a flight officer or commissioned, a second lieutenant.

Lonnie W. Meachum
Chaplain Lonnie W. Meachum, who has been serving with the U.S. Marines in the Southwest Pacific for more than a year, has returned to this country, according to a message received by Mrs. Meachum, who resides at Virginia Beach.

Edward B. Smith
Lt. Comdr. Edward B. Smith, U. S. N. R. Medical Corps, son of Mrs. Alice Smith and the late Dr. E. B. Smith of Oceana, has returned to this country after spending two years in the Southwest Pacific. Comdr. Smith, his wife and small daughter are visiting his mother at the home of Mrs. N. A. Nicholson in Creeds. Comdr. Smith attended Randolph Macon College at Bedford, Randolph Macon College at Ashland and graduated from the University of Virginia Medical School prior to entering the service.

Flave B. Gibbs
Miami Beach, Fla., June 10—T. Sgt. Flave B. Gibbs, age 25, Oceana, Va., returned from service outside the continental United States, now is being processed through the Army Air Forces Redistribution Station No. 2 in Miami Beach, where his next assignment will be determined.

AAF personnel, enlisted men and officers alike, are assigned to a Redistribution Station upon their return to the United States, but do not report to the station until completing a furlough or leave of three weeks.

Sergeant Gibbs, a B-24 Liberator gunner, flew 45 missions during nine months in the Middle East, shooting down two ME-109s, confirmed, and probably destroying another enemy plane. Back on active duty after having been reported missing in action, he wears the Air Medal and a Presidential Unit Citation badge. Wounded in action, he was also awarded the Purple Heart. The son of W. D. Gibbs, Richfield, N. C., Sergeant entered the Army July 15, 1941.

Richard A. Jones Unopposed For Treasurer

The returns from Tuesday's election saw the return of one of the Town councilmen, the defeat of two and the election of two new men in their stead.

Richard Jones, the unopposed candidate for Town Treasurer, received 463 votes for re-election. The terms of office of Mayor W. W. Elliott, councilmen H. A. Holt, Jr., W. F. Patton and L. E. Shetty do not expire for two years.

The unofficial returns gave P. F. Murray 500 votes, Fred A. Haycox and H. E. Halstead were running mates with votes 502 for Haycox and 505 for Halstead.

The two councilmen who were defeated were C. H. Capps, who polled 193 votes and J. T. Ewell with 188. Their running mate, who was not on the council, was Roy Allen Barnes whose vote totaled 248.

Executive Board B. S. A. Elects E. W. Maupin, Jr.

Mr. E. W. Maupin, Jr., of Portsmouth, was elected President of Tidewater Council Boy Scouts of America at a recent meeting of the Executive Board held in the Pinkwood Hotel at Virginia Beach. Mr. Maupin will fill the unexpired term of the late Mr. L. F. Ganes.

Mr. Maupin entered Scouting in January 1921 and has served for a total of almost 14 years. His most recent services have been as Vice-President of the Council, Chairman of the Finance Committee of Portsmouth District and a National Council Representative. He was presented the Silver Beaver Award for outstanding service to boyhood in 1938. The area which Mr. Maupin will now serve as Council President includes the cities of Norfolk and Portsmouth, and the Counties of Princess Anne and Norfolk, in Virginia, and the North Carolina counties of Dare, Currituck, Camden, Perquimans, Gates, Chowan and Pasquotank.

Mr. Maupin is the tenth President of the Council, past Presidents being R. L. Dobie, Eugene L. Graves, the late George Lewis, Charles B. Borland, Charles Kaufman, M. Daily Walsh, Wm. McC. Paxton, Colgate W. Warden, Jr., and the late Lemuel F. Ganes.

An outstanding report was made at the Board meeting by Frank W. Evans in which he pointed out that 1,312 different Boy Scouts had attended District overnight camps, "Camporees" in the five Districts of Tidewater Council during the month of May. William McC. Paxton gave information concerning the Annual Meeting of the National Council Boy Scouts of America and the strong recommendation for Scouting made by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker who received at the meeting the Silver Buffalo Award for outstanding service to boyhood.

Mr. Joseph A. Duma, a Portsmouth District Scouter, was elected to membership on the Board and will serve as Chairman of the Planning Committee on Senior Scouting for Tidewater Council.

Parker Is Elected Vice President Of Bar Association

The election of W. L. Parker as vice president of the Norfolk & Portsmouth Bar Association, succeeding Julian S. Lawrence, who was elevated to the presidency last month, was announced yesterday at the monthly meeting of the association.

Mr. Parker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Parker of 38th street Virginia Beach. He attended the College of William and Mary from 1908 to 1912, and the University of Virginia from 1912 to 1915. He received his LL.B. degree in 1915 and practiced law in Norfolk until 1917 when he joined the armed forces.

Upon his return to civilian life in 1919, Parker was associated with Hugh C. Davis and Hugh W. Davis in the practice of law for two years. Since 1921 he has practiced under his own firm name.

I learned my lesson at the time of my mother's death when people I never even knew came to see me. I remember after the last days of her illness, a knock came on the door one night. I opened to find a woman I didn't remember. I found she was the maid at the hairdressers.

Add three egg whites beaten stiff to one and one-half cups of crushed STRAWBERRIES. Sweeten to taste. Pile up in sherbet glasses and chill. Strawberries are an excellent source of Vitamin C.

The man who likes to eat is probably the man who put the "ok" in cooking.

Thousands of Army and Navy men are getting high school or college credits by the following correspondence courses conducted by the Armed Forces Institute. The Institute offers 64 separate subjects, including English, mathematics, science, business, architecture, and mechanical, electrical, and civil engineering. A Certificate of Proficiency is awarded upon satisfactory completion of each course.

Lt. and Mrs. J. M. Stubblevine are occupying the Hilliard Apt. on 26th street.

"Once again Virginia housewives are being asked to promote an abundant food — this time it is eggs. The production of eggs is far above normal and is beyond usual consumption and storage capacity, so in order to prevent waste, they should be used freely," states Dr. I. C. Riggins, State Health Commissioner.

"Eggs are one of the basic foods. They help to get the family off to a good start each day, and they can continue the good work at lunch and dinner. They are good for us at any meal, for adults as well as children.

"As a meat substitute, eggs are excellent, as they rank at the top of the list of foods in the quality of protein. They are also rich in quarters, Washington, D. C. Round-iron, phosphorus, thiamin, and riboflavin and are one of the few foods containing vitamin D.

"A dozen eggs will give slightly more in calorie value, nine times as much calcium, considerably more phosphorus and iron, thirty times as much vitamin A, more thiamin, and twice as much riboflavin as a pound of round steak. In addition, the eggs have vitamin D, which the steak does not have. The steak, however, will give slightly more protein and much more niacin, as eggs are deficient in niacin.

"Now, let's see what the housewife should remember regarding eggs: 1. Eggs are sold by grade and size in many Virginia markets. There is a grade for each household use. Grade A eggs are excellent for poaching and cooking, while Grade B are suitable for frying, scrambling or general use — and cost less per dozen. Grade C are usually used in cooking, and cost still less. 2. Eggs are perishable and should be kept in a cool place, preferably the refrigerator. 3. White shelled eggs and brown shelled ones have equal food value. The color of the shell is related only to the kind of hen, and has nothing to do with age, condition, or flavor of egg. 4. The color of the yolk of the egg has nothing to do with its freshness. It results from the hen's food. 5. Eggs should be cooked at a low temperature. High temperatures make egg whites tough.

"There are so many ways to Mander. Bela Lugosi, who is the returning Vampire, gives one of his most outstanding performances in this horror film which goes into the life and death habits of the dread monster.

prepare eggs that one should never get tired of them — golden scrambled, poached on toast, hard or soft in their shells, "golden-rod" eggs, in souffles, omelets, salads, custards; all the ways from the main dish to the dessert.

"In addition to this, eggs are among the most easily and completely digested of foods. Hard, soft, or raw, they all are equally nourishing."

Don't let MILK stand on a sunny porch or out in the light for any length of time because light destroys some of the riboflavin, Vitamin G. Store milk in your refrigerator as soon as it is delivered.

Good Joke — Everybody Happy

Two American servicemen on leave in Australia, looking for new diversions, took the advice of a practical joker and bought railway tickets to a place 340 miles from Sydney, the Australian News and Information Bureau says. They were bewildered and dis-lusioned when they wearily tramped into a small town (1,000 population) several miles from the railway siding. As it turned out, the soldiers were the first American servicemen to visit there and the townsfolk gave them a rousing welcome. They spent the remainder of their leave at cattle and sheep stations, hunting kangaroos and birds. They are now recommending the same good time for their buddies in Sydney. They have not yet caught up with the joker to thank him.

O. P. A. RE-CAPS

For the remainder of the month of June only, ceiling prices for early 1944 potatoes in Virginia are increased 20 cents per hundred pounds. Dr. J. Fulmer Bright, District Director of the Office of Price Administration at Richmond, Va., has announced.

At the same time, and for June only, the minimum diameter of potatoes qualifying for the ceiling on U. S. No. 1 grade, is reduced from 1-7/8 to 1-1/2 inches.

The 20 cents per hundred pounds increase in prices applies to sales made by growers and country shippers, and may be passed along to the retail purchaser. It may mean an increase of approximately 1/4 cent per pound, Dr. Bright said.

Both of the changes were made so that growers may, to some extent, recoup losses suffered by the early 1944 potato crop because of harsh weather conditions.

An increase in the allotments of sugar to restaurants, hotels, lunch-rooms, large boarding houses, schools and in-plant feeding facilities which do their own baking, has

BOOKS TO OWN

Vicki Baum has followed her immensely popular "Grand Hotel" with another novel about a German hostelry — "Hotel Berlin '43." Hotel Berlin, like its predecessor, has a varied assortment of fascinating guests, but things have changed radically under a war-torn Nazi regime.

The windowpanes are still shattered from the last air raid. The heavy brocade curtains have tears in them, and the stuffing is coming out of the deep luxurious chairs. But the hotel is still the best there is, and to it come people of high position, Rumanian officers, Nazi officials, famous actresses. To it also come Martin Richter, underground leader, and there he is hidden in the deep wine cellars by two sympathetic French waiters.

On the walls of houses, on the cars of the crowded underground trains, there often appears a scrawl, "You can kill Richter — but you can't kill his spirit." Service crews go around and wipe it off; guards are posted to watch the exposed spots. But the next morning, there is the handwriting again.

The influence which Martin Richter, who is a symbol of courage and freedom to the oppressed, has upon the residents of the hotel, is the main thread of Miss Baum's novel.

The Book-of-the-Month Club announces that the selection for July will be "Joseph, the Provider," by Thomas Mann. This is the last volume of Mann's tetralogy about the life of Joseph.

been announced by Dr. Bright.

The increase will permit these institutions which do their own baking to produce an amount of bakery products for their patrons consistent with that produced by commercial bakers and sold to the general public.

Allotments of sugar to industrial users for the third quarter beginning July 1 will be determined on the same percentages of base period use as those used during the current quarter. Dr. Bright has announced.

The allotments for all industrial users, except drug manufacturers, is 80 per cent of the amount of sugar the user consumed during the corresponding months of 1941. Makers of drug and pharmaceutical products will continue to receive 125 per cent of the amount they used during the base period.

The 80 per cent figure applies to such users as makers of bread and bakery products, condensed milk in containers of one gallon or less, soft drinks, mayonnaise and salad dressing, candy, cocoa, chewing gum, canned and bottled foods, and users in experimental, educational, demonstration and testing work.

The sales plan that gives purchasers of rayon and hosiery membership in so-called Nylon Priority Clubs—giving them priority to purchase nylon hosiery as soon as it is available if they purchase other hosiery now—is in violation of the nylon hosiery regulation, Dr. Bright has announced. It is not necessary for the public to join such a club in order to get nylons when nylons are again available, the Director pointed out.

From somewhere in the Pacific, via the Episcopal Church's national headquarters in New York comes the picture of a set of chimes made of shell cases. Largely the work of Marine Corporal William P. Cole, the chimes call the men to chapel. The chimes are rung by turning the wooden crank. An Episcopal Church Chaplain comments that this is another indication that men at the front want their Church with them.

Men Wanted — Merchant Marine

Youths between the ages of 16 and 17 years may enlist, with their parents' consent, for training for service in the U. S. Merchant Marine, the War Shipping Administration announces. Thirteen weeks of training is required for service in the deck and engine departments and six weeks for service as messmen and utility men in the stewards' department. Volunteers will be assigned to merchant vessels within a few weeks after completion of training. Men 18 to 26 years old may apply only if they have F or L draft classifications, or are in I-C. Qualified men 26 and less than 35½ are being accepted for deck and engine training and men less than 50½ for duty in the stewards' department. For information, applicants may write to the Commandant of the U. S. Maritime Service, Training Organization, War Shipping Administration, National Theatre Building, Washington 25, D. C.

After the third cocktail, the non-drinkers groan, "Let's eat," and the drinkers grumble "Must we eat?"

Mrs. Polly Miller Martin
Mrs. Polly Miller Martin, 67, widow of Charlie Martin, died at the residence in Princess Anne County, Monday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mary Tyndall, of Norfolk, and Mrs. Bertha Peale, of Princess Anne; five sons, Tully, Raymond and Lyndon Martin, of Princess Anne County, and Richard and Lonnie Martin of Norfolk County; a sister, Mrs. Lizzie Morris, of Princess Anne; a brother, Richard Miller, of Currituck; 21 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at the Pentecostal Holiness Church, Pungo, Wednesday at 3 o'clock. Burial will be in Willowood Cemetery.

Lois Pauline Brenneman
Lois Pauline Brenneman, 18-month-old daughter of Paul and Mrs. Bertha L. Yoder Brenneman, died at the residence, Kempville District, Monday morning at 2 o'clock after an illness of four days.

In addition to her parents she is survived by her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Yoder, Kempville and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Brenneman, Grantsville, Md.

Funeral services were conducted at the Mennonite Church at Kempville Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Matrimonial Rush in Italy
Because Nazi recruitment for women workers applies only to unmarried women, 18 to 30 years old, in occupied northern Italy, a "desperate matrimonial rush" has resulted, with many false marriage certificates being sold and women being married by proxy, according to a Swiss newspaper article reported to OWL.

Germans Told to Eat Less
The German people have been told to be "more economical than ever" in the consumption of food because the loss of the Ukraine has deprived them of expected supplies and the outlook for this year's harvest is "quite uncertain" according to a German broadcast reported by U. S. Government monitors.

Animal Disease Control
Regular appropriations for Animal Disease Control work were approved at practically the same amounts as the last biennium, but the appropriation for poultry and animal diagnostic laboratory at Harrisonburg was increased to meet the urgent needs of producers in that area who are contributing greatly to the War cause.

Try a NOODLE dish for a change. Simmer an onion and green pepper slowly in a quarter-cup of meat drippings. Add two cups of diced celery, 2 cups of cooked kidney beans, 4 cups of tomatoes and salt and pepper. Bring to a boil. Add two cups of dry noodles and cook slowly for 25 minutes.

Tie bunches of fresh ASPARAGUS with cotton string and place cut surface downward in about three inches of boiling water. Cover and cook for about twenty minutes.

Town and Farm In Wartime

Weather Stripping For Homes

Weather stripping felt and the wood to keep stripping rigid will be in good supply at retail stores, the War Production Board said. A fair amount of zinc for stripping double hung windows will be available, as well as insulating mineral wool and asphalt roofing, which should be ordered now, before the fall rush for these materials, WPB says. Rubber and copper weather stripping are not available for the individual consumer.

Gas For Farm Volunteers

Persons who volunteer for spare-time labor on farms and in food processing plants this summer may apply for special gasoline rations to get to and from this work, OPA announces. The applicant must arrange to carry at least four persons, including the driver (or as many as the car will hold), and must show there is no other adequate transportation.

Reemployment For Veterans

To be entitled to reemployment rights under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, the veteran must be honorably discharged and must apply for reemployment "within 40 days after he is relieved from training and service, according to National Headquarters of Selective Service. A soldier placed in inactive status and transferred to the Enlisted Reserve Corps at his own request to engage in essential industry, loses his reemployment rights if he does not apply to his former employer for reinstatement within 40 days after his transfer. A veteran has recourse to the courts to collect back pay if his reinstatement is improperly delayed by the employer.

Sugar Stamp 37 Invalid

Sugar Stamp 37 in War Ration Book 4 will never be used, OPA announced. Because many housewives mistakenly sent this stamp to their local boards when applying for home canning sugar, instead of the correct stamp—Sugar Stamp 37—OPA has announced that Sugar Stamp 37 will not be used at all, so that no one will suffer for this mistake.

The hardest work some people do is to make out like they have something to do.

Roanoke Solves Salvage Problem For Waste Paper

On every side we hear the cry to "save waste paper." The radio croons it the newspapers beg it. We are advised not to waste this bit of scrap. The NEWS is constantly receiving calls as to the disposal of accumulated waste paper which should not be destroyed.

Last winter the Willoughby T. Cooke school did a wonderful job with scrap collection. Many months ago the Lions Club attempted to collect scrap iron. However waste paper is one thing which accumulates very fast and garages and attics and cellars are fast filling up, judging by the phone calls of "what must I do with waste paper?" and the answer is "I do not know." With the shortage of gas it is unreasonable to expect individual collections by civic organization members. One Virginia town that we know of has solved the problem.

The OCP of Roanoke has devised a unique system to round up every scrap of waste paper in that city. The idea could well be adopted by the Town of Virginia Beach at little expense and no effort on the part of the street cleaning department.

A number of wooden bins have been placed in various sections of the city to be used as waste paper deposit stations. They are placed at points where they are easily accessible to a large number of residents. These bins are operated by Boy Scout troops. After enough paper has been collected to pay the cost of construction of the bins, additional funds raised from the sale of the salvage paper will go to the Scout troops.

Virginia Beach has a part in the job to salvage 8,000,000 tons of waste paper this year. It is a clear challenge and every citizen of this community will, no doubt be glad to bring waste paper to neighborhood or central bins if the Town or some civic organization will follow the lead of Roanoke and provide the salvage depot. A bin with a water-proof lid will do the work.

CASINO PARK TO BE IN FULL OPERATION BY JULY FOURTH

D. E. Shean Manager of Completely Renovated Playland at South end of Beach

The newly reconitoned Casino Park at 14th and Atlantic Ave. is expected to be in full operation by July 4th. D. E. Shean, who for several years managed the Seaside Park at the North end of the Beach, has assumed management of the project. Completely renovated Casino Park has snack bars and lunch counters, play land with "Fortune" wheel, shooting galleries, a photographer. There are bingo and ring tossing games and every type of amusement for pleasure seekers.

The bath houses for women and men are roomy and exceptionally clean. The swimming pool, which has not been in use for two years, has been cleaned and freshly painted and will have salt water pumped daily from the ocean.

Plans are under way for a dance floor but due to government priorities the completion of this phase of amusement will not be until late in the summer.

Impending Tire Shortage For Bus And Truck

O.D.T. Warns of Necessity For Continued Conservation of Gasoline

Col. J. Monroe Johnson, Director of the Office of Defense Transportation, has issued a warning to the nation's truck and bus operators that there will be a shortage of heavy and medium-heavy truck and bus tires for replacement purposes during July, August and September.

In the face of this shortage, the ODT points out, it is imperative that truck and bus operators practice the most rigorous conservation measures. Excessive speed and overloading must be eliminated; tire maintenance practices must be

UNIFORM WAGES DECIDED UPON BY COUNTY FARM WAGE BOARD

Impertative That Potato Growers Stick to Prices To Avoid Losses

At a meeting of the Princess Anne County Farm Wage Board which was held at the County Farm Labor Office June 16, the following schedule of farm wages were decided upon as being prevailing farm wages that are paid for the farm operations in Princess Anne County, According to H. W. Ozlin, County Agent.

Picking up potatoes 7½¢ per bushel.
Hauling potatoes from field to graders 8 to 10¢ per field bag depending on distance.

Picking snap beans for fresh market 40¢ per hamper for first picking and 50¢ per hamper for second picking.

Picking snap beans for canning purposes 40¢ per hamper.

For pick up day labor doing general farm work 30¢ per hour.

Handling potatoes 40¢ per hour.

Working in the grading sheds 50¢ per hour.

The wage board authorized that the above schedule of prevailing wages be published and that the farmers of the county be urged to conform as near as possible to this schedule.

The present market condition for potatoes and the prospect for a very poor yield makes it imperative that potato growers stick as close as possible so as to avoid tremendous losses on their crops.

Camp Pendleton News Items

G. I. Gazette

Conservation and Salvage By the Armed Forces

On the "home front," civilians have been backing up the soldiers at the fighting front by conserving and saving all materials needed in the war effort.

The service men and women at stations within the United States are also in the midst of a continuous conservation and salvage program. Special attention is given to the care of equipment and supplies; thereby obtaining longer wear from these critical materials.

Items that are worn out or damaged are returned for repair and re-issue. Those articles beyond repair are salvaged. Every piece of clothing, metal, tin cans, paper, grease, etc., is salvaged and returned to supply channels to be used again in the manufacture of war materials.

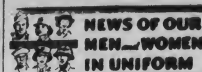

The Army also conserves, to the fullest extent, its water, electric, fuel, and food supplies. Special reports campaigns have resulted in a great saving in the reduction of the use of these critical supplies.

At Camp Pendleton, Va., the use of water during the past four months has been reduced by forty percent. This reduction was due to posters, directives, close check for leakages, and the wholehearted cooperation of all concerned in their desire to aid the war effort in every way possible.

During the same period, Camp Pendleton's electric bill has been reduced by 23 per cent. Posters placed at each light switch reading "Switch it off—Save power for war industries" did the trick.

Since January 1944, the Salvage Office at Camp Pendleton has salvaged more than 75,000 pounds of scrap iron; over 77,000 pounds of paper; over 30,000 pounds of tin cans; over 7,000 pounds of cooked will aid the war effort is salvaged. (Continued on page three)

5th WAR LOAN CAMPAIGN LAGGING WITH ONLY 2 WEEKS REMAINING

Joseph Daniel Allen

Pampa Army Air Field, Pampa, Texas. (Special)—Aviation Cadet Joseph Daniel Allen, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allen, Ocean, Virginia, is scheduled to receive his silver pilot's wings and officer's bars at the twin engine advanced flying school at the AAF Training Command at the Air Field at Pampa, Texas.

Cadet Allen attended Oceana High School and was appointed to flight training in November 1943. He received flight training at Sikeston, Missouri and basic flight training at Winfield, Kansas.

At the completion of his rigid training at Pampa he will be assigned to duty as an instructor or a combat pilot.

Dickson Is Promoted To First Lieutenant

Talbot Dickson, 27-year-old B-17 pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Petty Dickson, of Thirty-sixth street and Holly Road, Virginia Beach, member of an AAF Flying Fortress unit of the Fifteenth Air Force, recently was promoted from second lieutenant to first lieutenant, the Fifteenth Air Force headquarters has announced.

Lieutenant Dickson, who attended William and Mary College, Maury High school, and Augusta Military Academy, has completed 50 missions and has been awarded the Air Medal with three Bronze Oak Leaf Clusters since he flew his first mission over Certaldo, Italy, last January 15. He entered the Army Air Forces in October, 1942, and received his pilot's wings last July at Blytheville, Ark. He left for overseas duty last December.

Port Handles Heavy Tonnage

One of the most important units in the theatre of war and one on which depends the success of any invasion is the Army Transportation Corps. Serving in this corps in the Mediterranean Theatre is Captain Landon Hilliard, husband of Mrs. L. Hilliard of 25th and Arctic Avenue, Virginia Beach. Just what this corps does is seen in the following release:

AFHQ, Mediterranean Theatre—"Without such a superb performance, the success of our combat forces in Tunisia, Sicily and Italy would have been impossible." This is what Brigadier General George C. Stewart, transportation officer of the North African Theatre of Operations, said of the work of the port personnel that controls the largest Army overseas port in the world. Through it has passed in the last eighteen months the manpower and material elements of victory. "One of the truly great logistical achievements of history," summed up General Stewart.

This Army Transportation Corps unit was activated at New Orleans in June, 1942, and came overseas to Scotland shortly after as the first American unit of its type to serve on foreign soil. The training for the precedent-shattering job they were to do during and after the invasion of North Africa was obtained at ports in Scotland, England and Wales.

Participating in the invasion of North Africa, the Port Headquarters and the units under its command functioned at once. Although designed to operate one port, the outfit found itself handling the huge volume of men and equipment pouring in at four other ports. In the first month over 250,000 tons of equipment had been moved.

Since that time over 12,000,000 measured tons of equipment has passed through the port. Over 1,200,000 troops and Prisoners of War have come and gone. In one evening 30,000 troops were moved from the port to a staging area.

The port has operated railway cars and motor vehicle assembly plants which turned out hundreds of vehicles and railway cars per week, ready for use. In its peak month, one million measured tons and 135,000 troops cleared through. The wounded from the front have come back by hospital ship to be moved to hospitals for care.

Essex House Management Offers Generous Reward For Seller Of Most Bonds

Two weeks have passed and the quota for the 5th War Loan in Princess Anne County is far from the half way mark. Through June 17 the amount subscribed was only $30,591.50. The quota is $550,000.

Past campaigns have revealed the fact that there has always been more money on deposit in savings accounts of Virginia Banks after the campaigns than before and the campaigns have always exceeded their quotas. The same is true of plenty of money in Virginia to meet the individual locality. There is the quota if the individual will let the government use it. The mighty invasion which has now begun is a call to self-invasion of pocket-books, bank accounts and other resources for investment in more bonds.

Essex House Management Offers Reward

To the person selling the largest amount of bonds through her Miss Sarah Wilson, manager of the Essex House, will give a week's vacation in a large ocean front room with all meals furnished absolutely free of cost.

Motion Picture Managers Active

The Motion Picture managers of Virginia have pledged to do their part in helping to raise the statewide quota. W. F. Crockett, manager of the Bayne Theatre is co-chairman of the Theatre Industry's Fifth War Loan campaign in Virginia. At a recent meeting held in Richmond, over which Mr. Crockett presided, theatre officials adopted a 10 point program of action designed to sell more bonds than in the fourth loan. The theatres' overall state goal will be $3,090,825 maturity value E bonds or a bond for each of the some 123,000 seats in the 240 Virginia theatres.

A booth is maintained each day in the lobby of the Bayne Theatre where bonds and stamps may be purchased by those unable to get to the bank or post office during office hours. This booth is manned by the ladies of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. W. C. Davis To Head Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary, Post 113, held the final meeting before disbanding for the summer, on Tuesday, June 20 at the Legion Club House. The principal business was election of officers to serve for the ensuing year. Mrs. W. C. Davis will succeed Mrs. L. B. Grey as president; Mrs. H. C. Myer, 1st vice president; Mrs. Walton G. Holland, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Basil Manly, secretary; Mrs. S. A. Brock, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Woodhouse, Mrs. S. M. Simpson, Chaplain and Mrs. L. G. Garrison, Sergeant at Arms.

Delegates were elected to attend the State Convention to be held in Roanoke in August. Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Manly and Mrs. Foy Casper were elected delegates with Mrs. Brock, Mrs. J. T. Woodhouse and Mrs. L. B. Grey as alternates.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be held in September. New Rochelle, New York, the commanding officer of the port, has nothing but praise for the men who have contributed to the record of the unit. He entered the service in 1917 and has served in the Army, the Naval Flying Corps, and the Marines, where he had accumulated 15 months overseas service before World War II.

The officers and men of the port staff are experts and specialists in their line of operation. They supervise the work of the Port Battalion and are in contact with the Navy and Merchant Marine. Soldiers were shipped from this port for the Sicilian and Italian invasions. The personnel who operate this port have a big job to do to keep the flow steady.

Scores of chemicals may be produced from brines found under thousands of acres of U. S. land.

THE "TOMORROW" HABIT

Travelers in South American countries have often laughed at the habit of many people in those lands of saying "Manana," which means tomorrow. If the traveler asks them to do something right away quick, they are very apt to say "Manana." When tomorrow comes, they may still say they will do it tomorrow, and that tomorrow may never come.

There are folks who act that way in daily life in the United States. They see something that needs to be done, but they are going to do it tomorrow or at some future date, and in some cases that time never comes. It is also a bad habit to acquire in the life of a community. It holds back the progress of some towns that could go ahead by progressive action.

KEEP THE HORSE BEFORE THE CART

Recently a business man accosted a friend who said: "Well, Doctor, I see where they are going to socialize your business under the Federal Social Security Act."

The Doctor, who had spent his life helping the ill and afflicted in his community regardless of their financial circumstances, said: "Oh no, my friend, they are going to socialize you. When the Federal government takes six per cent of your earnings and six per cent of your employer on wages paid you up to a specified amount, tells you what doctor to go to, when, and where, you will be getting the benefits of socialism, not me. When that day comes I will go back to pipe fitting, which is just working with a different kind of pipes than those in a human."

Yes, it's the public, not the doctors, that would suffer from politically appointed physicians. There would no longer be incentive for the better doctors to carry on. An independent pipe fitter would have more future than a socialized doctor.

As Others See It

IT'S THE LITTLE THINGS

Christian Science Monitor

This is the season of the year when the man of the house finds a thousand and one odd jobs demanding his attention. There's the garden. The lawn needs cutting. The screens must be put on.

A comparatively simple job, putting on screens. Just hang them up from the cellar, brush them off, and on they go. Four screws to a screen. Oh yes, the screws. Where are they? In the bench drawer? Back of the screens? Has anyone seen them? Seen what? The screen screws? Of course she hasn't. And, says a voice from upstairs, if things were in their proper place they'd be there when needed.

The situation finally requires a trip to the hardware store, where it is discovered that screws aren't, so to speak, a dime a dozen any more and there isn't the selection there used to be. Yes, the hardware man guessed he had enough odd sizes. The man of the house, clutching his small parcel, suddenly rediscovers that it is still the little things that count—like the nail in the shoe of the horse in the battle that couldn't be won without it.

By the way, where are you going to hide those screws next fall?

EVERY MAN'S DUTY

Recently a young apparently able bodied man, called on the writer and presented a book for which he was canvassing. I listened to his prospectus of the book and studied him individually. When he had finished I asked him if he was studying for the ministry. He said that he was. I wanted to ask why he was not in uniform for some branch of war service, but lacked the courage to do so. After he left (without selling me a book) I looked at pictures of my three loved ones who are in uniform and could not refrain from feeling that this young man was not doing his duty to himself for his country.

It did me worlds of good to read that one Methodist minister looks upon this question in the same way. Here are some of the words in a recent sermon:

"I realize that the idea of slaying is foreign to the conception of the ministry, but it is likewise foreign to any honorable calling. It is not natural to run a bayonet through your fellowman or to blow him to bits whether you are a minister or a layman."

"I believe the ministry will be in an incalculably stronger position if now the future ministers take their places side by side with all of those who are called upon to undergo the routine and dangers of army life. They should not shrink from drinking their part of the cup of life. If they refuse to rub shoulders with their fellowmen now they need not be surprised if their fellowmen look with disdain upon them in the years to come. As a matter of fact, their own self-respect and their own outlook will be infinitely bettered if they march up and take their places without fear or favor in this hour of emergency."

The quotation is a part of the sermon of the Rev. James B. Douglass, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Salem, and expresses exactly the opinion of many mother's who are opposed to the idea of exemption given men just because they are ministerial students. This very fact should make them more eager to serve alongside those who are carrying the banner of freedom.

Rev. J. B. Douglass was a student for the ministry in 1917 but discontinued his theological studies until after World War I and volunteered and served for 22 and one-half months as a private. He speaks with full knowledge of man's duty in time of war.—Galax Post-Herald.

AN OLD HINDU CUSTOM

Roaokoe Times

Custom dictates that a Hindu husband eat his meal first before his wife can touch any food. She serves him first and what he desires to leave is her share. The Hindus may be backward folks and all that, but there's no denying that in the Hindu household the little woman knows her place and keeps it. Do you suppose any of our boys now stationed in India will bring back any of the Hindu customs when they return to the U. S. A.? If so, there's going to be a pretty howdy-do in more than one American household—and we don't mean maybe.

HOLD YOUR WAR BONDS

The nation-wide campaign to secure subscriptions to the Fifth War Loan emphasizes the importance of retaining the bonds, when purchased, unless an imperative demand for cash compels redemption.

In May there will be $280,000,000 worth of bonds cashed by holders of Series E or about 38 per cent of the $713,907,992 sold.

The record of Series E bonds, however, reveals $32,000,000,000 sold and only $2,800,000,000, or about nine per cent cashed in. Every time a holder of a war bond cashes it in he cancels the sale of a bond of equal amount.

Of course, every sensible person knows that there will arise occasions when the individual, regardless of patriotic impulses, is faced with the necessity of getting some cash from bonds. This is caused, very often, by over enthusiasm in buying and by emergencies that arise after the investment has been made.

The necessary cashing of a bond implies no reflection upon the holder, but, just the same, it is very important for us to realize the importance of making every effort to keep our bonds as a permanent investment. By so doing, even at personal inconveniences we really "back the attack."

With the coming of the invasion, French underground forces are getting ready to fight, and all the French people, by obeying the orders of General de Gaulle, chief of the French Republic Government, will give the commander of the Allied forces all their help, according to Henri Hoppenot, French delegate in the United States, as reported by the French Press and Information Service.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKinn

The war is creating a new kind of book, books that represent the combined efforts of men of action and writing men. In this category is "War Below Zero" by Colonel Bernt Balchen and Majors Corey Ford and Oliver LaFarge.

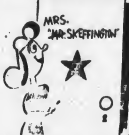

COLONEL BALCHEN

Colonel Balchen, who is credited with more hours over Arctic and Antarctic regions than any other pilot in the world, has been in charge of our base in Greenland since 1941. The idea of writing "War Below Zero" came to Balchen and Ford one day last summer when they were breakfasting in an Iceland hotel. It occurred to them that Americans might like to know what has been happening in that northernmost American air base. In like manner, Major LaFarge, who writes the second part of "War Below Zero," tells the story related to him by four air pilots, participants in one of the most spectacular episodes mentioned by Balchen and Ford.

Though only a little area of Greenland on the southern tip is habitable by anyone but Eskimos, it is one of the key regions in the world for strategy. For over southern Greenland the coming weather for Europe is made. Germany realized how necessary this information was by 1941 had planted a fully equipped signal station above the Arctic Circle. Colonel Balchen was responsible for ousting the Germans.

The second part of "War Below Zero" is the story of a Flying Fortress which crashed on the Greenland Ice Cap, and so thrust nine men into the frozen midwinter without preparation or equipment. The last of these men were rescued five months later. Throughout the long weeks of the siege, they were kept supplied with food, with supplies, even with war news and letters, by planes that flew up from coast stations. This is a story of unbelievable courage and heroism, both of the men who did the waiting and those who finally brought the long wait to an end.

How much do you know about our Allies? "Meet Your Allies," edited by Nicholas Balint, tells pertinent facts about the history, the peoples, and the contributions to the war effort of each of the 36 countries now engaged in fighting fascism. Illustrated with a hundred fine photographs, this is a valuable book for anyone who wants to know more about those who are fighting on our side.

MRS. SKEFFINGTON

Bette Davis, currently starring in "Mr. Skeffington," first became interested in going the character of Mr. Skeffington's frivolous wife, when she read the novel as a result of the Month Club selection two years ago. It's said that when work first started on the Warner Bros. set, there was a great deal of confusion because the typists, sending out notices insisted on calling the play, "Mrs. Skeffington." They figured that if Bette Davis was in it, it must be called after the part she played.

BEHIND THE BATTLEFRONTS

Pre-Invasion Shipment of Tanks

Of the more than 61,000 tanks and 2,200,000 other military motor vehicles including trucks, jeeps, tank destroyers—produced in the United States from January 1 to April 1 this year, 2,000 tanks and 90,000 other motor vehicles were sent to Allied forces, the Foreign Economic Administration reports. Since the beginning of lend-lease, March 11, 1941, almost 26,000 tanks and 840,000 other motor vehicles were sent from the U. S.

Norwegians to Await Instructions

King Haakon of Norway instructed anti-Nazi Norwegians to stand at their posts, to keep in close contact with their leaders and not to allow joy brought on by the invasion of France to lure them into unprompted acts, according to a broadcast reported by the Federal Communications Commission. King Haakon said that the Supreme Allied Commander would keep them informed by radio and other means as to what is expected of everyone.

Allies "Will Meet in Berlin"

Russian newspapers hailed the Allied landings in France as a "momentous" event and predicted that Allied and Soviet forces "will meet in Berlin," according to a Moscow broadcast reported by U. S. Government monitors.

Invasion News Pleases Americas

News of the Allied invasion of western Europe was received with jubilant enthusiasm in other American nations, the Daily Information Bulletin of the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs reports. Presidents of Chile, Colombia and Peru sent messages to President Roosevelt, and King George. Envoys and foreign ministers of Brazil, Mexico, Paraguay and other countries hailed the event as an assurance of victory. The Chilean Senate, in an unprecedented move, voted unanimously to send congratulatory notes to Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin. La Prensa, Buenos Aires daily, broke a long tradition by headlining war news on the front page.

Colonel Cochran Reports

The First Air Commando Force in India and Burma played an important role in bringing in and supplying the British ground forces operating behind Japanese lines in Burma. Col. Philip G. Cochran, commanding officer of the Commando Force, reported to the War Department. The Commando outfit slashed enemy communications, cut the enemy off from supplies, supported the British with air weapons—fighters and medium bombers—and evacuated the wounded.

Cuban President to Visit U.S.

Cuba's newly-elected President, Grau San Martin, announced adherence to the United Nations and inter-American solidarity and urged a unified nation, the CIAA Daily Information Bulletin reports. The President-elect is expected to visit the United States and Central America before assuming office.

Dutchman Is Four Year Late

A Dutchman in offering himself for enlistment recently at a Netherlands East Indies Army recruiting station in Melbourne, Australia, said: "I am 4 years late reporting to you, but I only heard last November that Holland was in the war and it has taken me until now to get here." Aneta, official Netherlands News Agency relates. The Dutchman had been living on a farm in Australia's northern Queensland. When he heard Holland was in the war he rode his only possession, a horse, 250 miles to Cairns, then hitch-hiked 1,600 miles to Melbourne. It took him five months to make the trip.

French Not at War, Laval Says

Pierre Laval, Nazi-dominated premier of the puppet Vichy regime, told the French people that they were not at war and urged them "not to take part in the fighting," the Federal Communications Commission reports. If they were to undertake hostile action against Germany during the Allied "landing attempts" they would add to the misfortunes of the country, Laval warned.

Danes' Sabotage Acts Effective

Many Danish workers practice effective sabotage, the Danish Information Service says. Landslides occur constantly during excavations, and sugar is mixed into cement used for bunkers. Thirty workers were recently discharged from a German airfield because they had not worked one hour for two weeks—but had been playing cards in a nearby forest glade. A farmer carting gravel for the Germans received daily wages for six loads until the Nazis discovered that they all were the same load.

French to Help Allied Forces

This is no time to shake hands with Henry!

NOT THAT Henry isn't a nice, friendly fellow. He is. And always trying to help in any way he can. Handy man to have about the house.

Now, Henry, you were right: your electrical dealer has got his wartime troubles, and many minor repairs can be made at home if you know what you're doing.

So . . . when The Little Woman's pet iron stopped functioning with its accustomed efficiency, Henry says to Henry: "Shucks, I can fix that. No need to bother those electrical repair fellows—they got troubles enough."

But . . . most repairs to electrical appliances require expert attention, and the quicker the thrifter.

So, with a few assorted tools and half an hour to spare, Henry went to work.

You know, of course, that you may not be able to replace many of your treasured electrical appliances for the duration. Rule Number One is: TAKE CARE OF 'EM. Rule Number Two is: HAVE THEM PROPERLY REPAIRED.

Net result: for Henry, two broken fingernails, and a swollen thumb; for the Little Woman, an iron that still doesn't work.

CROSBY-CROCKETT

Galilee Episcopal Church was the scene of a lovely wedding Thursday evening when Miss Constance Lee Crockett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Franklin Crockett became the bride of Lt. Albert Vincent Crosby, Jr., U.S.A., son of Dr. and Mrs. Albert Vincent Crosby of Norfolk.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stiles Lines before an altar arranged with cathedral candles, ciborium, Southern lilies and white flowers. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Louise Boyd Robinson, organist.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of candlelight satin, fashioned with sweetheart neckline outlined with tiny seed pearls. The skirt with full length train was joined to a shirred bodice. The veil, of antique English illusion, cascaded from a pointed wreath of orange blossoms worn low on the back of the head. She carried a white Prayer Book with canhamanna orchids showered with Stephanotis. Her only ornament was an antique gold locket bracelet.

Mrs. Louis Zacharias was matron of honor and Miss Nancy Ives was maid-of-honor. The bridesmaids were the Misses Melissa Hilliard, Mary Crosby Miller and Mrs. Hope Crosby Neal, sister of the groom, all of Norfolk. They wore gowns of white marquisette made with off the shoulder effect, bracelet length sleeves, tight bodice and bouffant skirts. They wore white Juliet caps trimmed with beads. All the attendants carried cascade bouquets of Beaton gladioli.

Dr. Albert Vincent Crosby, father of the groom, acted as best man. The groomsmen were: Lt. Wiley M. Crockett, Langley Field; Lt. Merlin E. Graul of Camp Pendleton; Ens. Harold Lucas and Ens. Samuel Hopkins. Robert Taylor was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Crockett wore a gown of seafog green trimmed with white embroidery dyed to match and a corsage of Canhamanna orchids. Mrs. Crosby's gown was of white crepe trimmed in gold with a corsage of orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the Trafton-Chalfonte Hotel. Later in the evening Lt. and Mrs. Crosby left for Columbus Georgia where the groom is stationed. The bride travelled in a Rohnorth Beiga gabardine suit with brown accessories and a corsage of orchids. The out of town guests were Mrs. Clarence Tomlin and Miss Dorothy Tomlin of West Orange, N. J. Mrs. G. O. McNairy of Greensboro, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Morton Thalhimer of Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. Don Seiwel of Washington, D. C., Miss Henrietta Latta, Miss Isobel Shapiro and Miss Jane Le Fever of Philadelphia.

HUGHES-MOORE

The marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Moore, to Lieut. William Vincent Hughes, USN, of San Diego, Calif., son of Mrs. Florence Collins Hughes, of San Diego, Calif., and Earl Eugene Hughes, of Los Angeles, Calif., took place Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock on the lawn of "The Hermitage," the home of the bride's parents at Lynnhaven. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Jason Leon MacMillan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, before an improvised altar of ferns and Eucharist lilies in a natural setting of cedars, and was witnessed by relatives and friends. The wedding music was played by a string quartet.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding gown, worn by her grandmother, of ivory brocade satin, trimmed in Duchess lace, with a basque bodice and puffed sleeves. Her veil of rosepoint lace over imported illusion was arranged from a cap of heirloom lace encircled with a band of pearls and she carried an arm bouquet of white orchids and Stephanotis.

Mrs. William Robertson, of Santa Barbara, Calif., cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Jane Pratt, of Larchmont, N. Y., cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of aqua mousseline de soie, made with sweetheart neck lines edged with narrow self pleating, basque bodices finished with the same trimming, bishop sleeves and bouffant skirts. Their picture hats of matching Swiss hair braid were trimmed with long aqua ribbon streamers. Miss Frances Cornwell, of Arlington, another cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a gown of jonquil yellow mousseline de soie, made with a sweetheart neckline, short puffed sleeves, basque bodice and bouffant skirt, and wore a large hat of yellow Swiss hair braid. All the attendants carried arm bouquets of mixed spring flowers.

The best man was Capt. Charles Kersh, USA, of Washington, and the ushers were Lieut. John Loving of Washington, and Lieut. (jg) Don Petty, of the U. S. Naval Reserve, and Charles Ferrell Moore, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of periwinkle blue chiffon, with matching hat and a corsage of orchids. The mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of rose crepe, with matching hat, and a corsage of orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was given. Later Lieutenant and Mrs. Hughes left for a northern wedding trip and upon their return they will reside on Bondale road. The bride traveled in a black bolero suit, trimmed in red, with black accessories and a corsage of orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Green of Waco, Texas, announce the marriage of their daughter, Esther, to Lt. William T. Marr, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Marr of Virginia Beach Boulevard.

Theatre Prevues

"FOUR JILLS IN A JEEP" starring Kay Francis, Carole Landis, Martha Raye and Mitzi Mayfair will come to Bayne Theatre Friday, June 23 and Saturday the 24th. The story tells of the mad, merry adventures of four girls who set out to see the world. Jimmy Dorsey and his orchestra furnish the rhythm.

"Four Jills in a Jeep" is packed with laughs, music, drama, romance and a roster of the most brilliant stars of Broadway and Hollywood.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Charles Boyer, Ingrid Bergman, Joseph Cotten and Dame May Whitty will be starred in "GASLIGHT." A suspenseful and dramatic story of a man who deliberately sets out to drive his wife insane to hide the terrifying secret of his own past. This is one of the most exciting and dramatic stories ever to reach the screen. Featured by outstanding performances by the star-studded cast headed by Charles Boyer, Ingrid Bergman and Joseph Cotten, "Gaslight" will keep you on the edge of your seat as it relates the story of the beautiful young singer, portrayed by Miss Bergman, who marries her accompanist (Charles Boyer) and with him sets up home in the London house where Paula's aunt a famous singer, was murdered.

"MEET THE PEOPLE" will be the offering for Wednesday and Thursday. This is a sparkling M. G. M. musical comedy starring Lucille Ball, Dick Powell, Virginia O'Brien and Rags Ragland. Gay tunes, sprightly dances and a plot right from the headlines of the morning paper.

The movie, which is based on the successful stage revue of the same name, deals with the gay side of things in a busy war industry. The shyness workers are revealed in simple, human terms.

"HENRY ALDRICH BOY SCOUT" will be the opening feature for the Roland Theatre Friday and Saturday. Jimmy Lydon, Charles Smith, John Littel and Olive Blakeney will be co-starred in the leading roles.

Sunday and Monday, Joan Davis, Jane Frazee, John Hubbard and Judy Clark will be seen in "BEAUTIFUL BUT BROKE." A Mad Musical with radio's most popular comedienne, Joan Davis.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday there will be a double feature. "CRIME DOCTOR'S STRANGEST CASE" starring Warner Baxter, Lynn Merrick and Reginald Denny. Radio's top crime expert matches wits with six murder suspects, Dr. Ordway (Warner Baxter) cracks a safe, cracks a head, cracks a case and by putting a suspect under a hypnotic spell performs the strangest third degree the screen has ever seen.

The extra-feature is a Western, "RIDE TENDERFOOT RIDE" starring Gene Autrey.

Health Notes

THE SUNBURN HAZARD

"In spite of seasonal warnings, enthusiastic vacationists often pay heavy penalties for their disregard of the burning power of the sun on the unprotected and untanned skin. Many thousands of casualties, some very severe, take place during the summer months due to this cause. Over sold on the appearance value of a tan or too enthusiastic over the pleasure of sea, lake, or river bathing, such persons often suddenly and painfully become aware that the insidious rays of the sun have made victims of them," states D. I. C. Riggins, State Health Commissioner.

"Recently the case of a young woman was reported who spent a whole sun-drenched day in an abbreviated bathing suit at the shore and the next two weeks in a hospital. Suffering from second degree burns she lost consciousness, and due to a kidney complication, for a time her life hung in the balance. "While this example is an extreme one, it nevertheless serves to emphasize that the burn of the sun can be just as damaging as boiling water or a direct flame, despite its stealthy manner of burning. Therefore, it deserves the same respect.

"The winter-white skin cannot be exposed to the sun unduly without exacting a price. Nature in this respect is adamant. A tan cannot be forced. If the attempt is made, the inevitable result is a burn.

"Consequently, restraint should be the controlling force where direct exposure of the body to the sun is concerned. This means that a fifteen to thirty minute period should be the limit for the initial exposure. The time gradually can be extended each day until the protecting tan has fully developed.

"Incidentally, there are certain types of persons, usually a limited number of blondes, whose skin will not tan, no matter how cautious they may be. Such persons, however grudgingly, must accept the situation, and govern themselves accordingly. To do otherwise than to continue to limit sun exposure to brief periods, is to invite burns that in no way will compensate for the unwise and extended pleasures. "In brief, handled with care the sun will treat one kindly. Handled carelessly or thoughtlessly, it can cause real suffering, even serious illness. So, when on an outing, it is wise always to remember that where the sun rays on the body are concerned, discretion is the better part of valor."

Why Farmers Should Buy and Keep War Bonds

By PAUL SANDERS
Editor
Southern Planter

Patriotism and as a sound financial investment—there are the paramount reasons why even farm families, regardless of income, should buy War Savings Bonds and Bonds and keep them.

In the first place, we have a war to win. Our boys are dying on the field of battle that the American way of life may be preserved. To win the war, they must have food, ships, tanks, planes and equipment costing many billions of dollars. And in a Democracy, the Government must borrow this cash from its citizens. Our brave soldiers, sailors and marines are showing their faith in our form of government by making the supreme sacrifice. The farmer can demonstrate his patriotism by sacrificing normal expenditures to save cash to lend his Government through the regular purchase of War Savings Bonds and Bonds.

Then, good business judgment should lead the farmer to War Bonds as a sound financial investment. This is a boom period for agriculture, and there is no safer nor more attractive investment for wartime earnings of the farm family than these Bonds. They bear a good interest rate and are backed by the integrity of the United States. War Bonds differ from dollar bills in only one respect—the former draw interest, the latter do not. Both are obligations of the Federal Government.

For every three dollars you invest now, you get back four dollars ten years hence. The Bonds are redeemable, with interest, at the option of the owner any time after sixty days of date of issue. Points On Party-Lines

More people are now on party lines than ever before. This is due to war conditions, which have put a stop to the building of telephone plant. So, to furnish service to as many people as possible, we have had to stretch existing facilities to their utmost. One result is that more and more lines are now serving two families instead of one.

Party-line service is satisfactory service if these few reasonable rules are observed:

1. Avoid long conversations.
2. Do not make several calls in succession; give the other fellow a chance.
3. Do not interrupt the other party when he is making a call.
4. Hang up carefully after each call in order to keep the line open.

Friendly consideration and teamwork result in better service for all concerned.

Town and Farm In Wartime

It is perfectly clear that we are winning the war. We have the mightiest navy the world has ever seen. We have the best equipped army in the world. Our industrial production of the munitions of war is miraculous. No less a miracle is the unprecedented production of food and fiber which are also munitions of war, by American farmers. The "Master Race" is surrounded and inevitably will be conquered and conquered by irresistible force. The dastardly Japs are steadily being pushed back and, step by step, will be driven out of the vast empire they stole before we could arm ourselves to stop them.

It is equally clear, however, that the mighty task of winning the war—in fact two wars—will take a lot of time. In all probability the best we can even reasonably hope for in two more years of tough fighting. It might take much longer.

And the cost measured in dollars is beyond human comprehension. To win the war we must marshal our dollars, just as we must devote to that objective our manpower, our industrial production and our agriculture.

Farmers, of course, recognize as clearly as any other group the need, and the obligation, to direct our dollars to the winning of the war. In meeting this responsibility farmers, all things considered, have been doing as well as other economic groups. The fact is that though all of us must do better—we must buy more war bonds.

Doing so is not only high patriotism, it is good business for us individually. In addition to furnishing bullets for our soldiers the purchase of War Bonds; buys security for old age, buys education for our children, buys modern farm equipment and many other things that will be needed later, but which are unavailable now, buys for each of us, and the nation, the best insurance would wreck the country from stem to stern.

Buy a good interest return on the dollars we can spare now, providing also the safest investment in the world today.

Buy peace of mind—knowing your money is in the fight, that you are doing all you can to hasten the winning of the peace and the saving of the lives of our boys.

Let's put every dollar we can spare in war bonds. Let's remember also that we must hold them to maturity, both to serve our country in this hour of danger and to realize the full interest return on our war bond investment.

Edgar Cayce Host At Research Conference

Approximately 100 people gathered at the home of Edgar Cayce last week to attend the thirteenth annual congress sponsored by the Association for Research and Enlightenment, Inc. Addresses were made by two outstanding educators and lecturers, Mrs. George Wolfe, of Bellevue, Pa., and Mrs. Marguerite Harmon Bro. of Mr. Carroll, Ill.

The opening session of the conference was held at the weekly Bible class led by Mr. Cayce. At the Wednesday afternoon session Mrs. Wolfe discussed the presentation of psychic material and Mrs. Bro. who is also a nationally known writer, spoke on "The Long Quest For God in Psychic Matters."

Others who participated in the conference were Miss Esther Wynne and Miss Florence Edmonds, of the Norfolk study and prayer group, C. Rudolph Johnson, attorney of Memphis, Tenn., and Eley Simmons, insurance man of Norfolk. Psychic readings were given which were open to the members, their guests and other visitors. The Rev. Harmon H. Bro., of Chicago spoke on "Reading the Readings," which was a general summary of the association's work during the past year.

Mr. Cayce spoke at the Friday morning session on the Bible verses he has quoted in his readings, and what they have meant to him. A general assembly was held Friday afternoon. Dr. Marion Dick, osteopath, of Philadelphia was the principal speaker, at the annual congress dinner on Friday evening when he talked on "How a Doctor Works with the Physical Readings."

The session was concluded with open readings by Mr. Cayce on Saturday morning and afternoon.

Quota Increase For Surgical Dressings

Mrs. K. C. Johnson, chairman of surgical dressings, announces that the surgical dressings quota for the Princess Anne County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been increased from 45,000 dressings to 75,000 dressings monthly.

During May, 65,427 dressings were made in the Chapter and 23 boxes containing 124,200 dressings in all were shipped for immediate use.

More workers are urgently needed to meet the increasing request for dressings. Workrooms through the County are opened at the following times:

Chapter Headquarters, 16th and Atlantic, Mondays, 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. and Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. (Mrs. K. C. Johnson, chairman).
Fort Story, Officer's Club, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, 9 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. (Mrs. E. G. Mulling, Chairman).
Fort Story, N. C. O. CLUB, Tuesdays and Thursdays, 1:30 p.m. until 4 p.m.

Thalia workroom in Marr's Restaurant, on Virginia Beach Boulevard, Tuesdays and Wednesdays 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. (Mrs. J. J. Kin-dell, chairman).
Kempville, Experimental Station Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays, 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. (Mrs. E. L. Cooper, chairman).
East Ocean View, 3rd Street and Shore Drive, Tuesdays and Thursdays, 10:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. (Mrs. E. K. Wilson, chairman).
One Hour of your time will produce 50 dressings!

LETTERS TO OUR SERVICE MEN

On Sunday, July second, the Galilea Gazette will open its letter box to service men, in the Galilea Church. This box will contain an addressed envelope and a blank sheet of paper to each of our men in the service. On July ninth the box will be moved to Barr's Drug Store for one week. For the week of July sixteenth it will be in Fuel, Feed, and Building Supplies store. From the twenty-fourth of July until August second the box will remain at the Bayne Theatre.

It is hoped that everyone with a friend in the service will stop long enough to write one or two lines and sign his name. By August second we hope that there will be at least a dozen notes on each sheet.

Japanese Beetle Invades Va.

Sections of Princess Anne County have become infested with the Japanese beetle and fruit trees, rose bushes, other flowers and growing corn are being attacked, according to the Virginia Truck Experiment Station at Diamond Springs, with inquiries as to methods of extermination.

Dr. Harry G. Walker, entomologist at the station, says the pests are attacking fruit trees, grape vines, flowers and green foliage in greater numbers than in former years and are doing much damage. He says sprays that have been used with success should be carefully selected so that those containing poison are not put on fruits and corn.

The best spray for use on green foliage, not fruit trees or other food plants, is made of 10 ounces of arsenate of lead, 6 ounces of wheat flour and 10 gallons of water. On fruit trees, grape vines and corn and other food crops, Dr. Walker recommends a spray made of two pounds of dehydrated lime, one pound of aluminum sulphate and 10 gallons of water.

The beetle usually remains here until about August but are more numerous between July 1 and 15 than at any other time, Dr. Walker stated.

The Government maintains a quarantine against the pest and restricts the shipment into this territory from the south of sweet corn and certain fruits until they have passed the required inspection.

The City Bureau of Parks is distributing Farmers' Bulletin No. 1856 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture dealing with control of the Japanese beetle. Mr. Heutte said, and will be glad to give or mail a copy to anyone who asks for it.

The adult beetle is nearly half an inch long, about a fourth of an inch wide, broadly oval, and shining metallic green. The hard outer wings are coppery brown. There are two small tufts of white hairs just behind the wing covers, and five patches along each side of the body, which make this beetle readily distinguishable from others.

Mr. Heutte said traps are not practical for the individual garden owner since they only attract beetles unless used in numbers over large areas. They can not be poisoned because they will not eat foliage that has been stained by a spray, but experiments are being made with a spore that spreads a destructive epidemic among the insects, and they must be destroyed in the grub stage in the ground.

Contract Let For Fleet School Sewage Plant

Richmond, Va., — The regional office of the Federal Works Agency has concurred in the award of a contract by the town of Virginia Beach, Va., to the S. T. George Company of Norfolk, second low bidder at $41,908, to construct a sewer main in the northern section of the town to provide adequate sewage disposal facilities for the U. S. Navy Fleet Service School, Regional Director, C. L. Vickers announced.

The low bid, submitted by the Inter-County Construction Corporation of Hyattsville, Md., for $41,651, was rejected after the city attorney of Virginia Beach ruled that the bid was not properly executed.

Concurrence in the award of the contract to the second low bidder was contingent upon the town's willingness to make up the difference between the low bid and the amount of the bid submitted by the S. T. George Company, Mr. Vickers said.

Plans call for the installation of approximately 4,840 feet of 21-inch vitrified-clay pipe from 40th Street and Pacific Avenue to a sewage pumping station near 29th Street and Arctic Avenue, to replace a 10-inch concrete sewer main that has begun to disintegrate as a result of overloading.

The S. T. George Company has equipment and laborers available and is prepared to start work immediately, Virginia Beach officials reported.

The Federal Works Agency will contribute $45,000 from Lanham Act funds as a grant to the town, to aid in financing the project, which will be completed at a cost of approximately $75,000.

Salt Water Pool Operating Again

The Casino Salt Water Swimming Pool makes it debut this week after a long period of being closed due to War restrictions in the past. The opening of the pool Casino Park will be a helpful measure towards better recreation at the beach.

The pool manager Fred Jermyn stated, many persons would like to learn to swim but are fearful in the face of swim breakers, but now, however, they may learn at the hands of instructors in the salt water pool at Casino Park.

Classes will begin next week both for children and adults, those wishing to join the classes may apply to Mr. Jermyn at the Pool office on the Ocean front between 14th and 15th Street at the Beach.

Many additional features have been added to the Casino Park recreation and amusement center and more to be added.

A new feature in entertainment will be instituted in the park shortly for young and old alike which Manager Shean expects to announce next week.

Beach Restricted To Army, Navy

"On account of an acute domestic water shortage, effective immediately, and continuing until further notice, Virginia Beach area from Fort Story to Camp Pendleton and extending inland one and one-half miles from the beachline" was declared "out of bounds" to naval personnel today by Rear Adm. David McD. LeBreton, commandant of the Fifth Naval District.

The order does not apply to Navy personnel on duty status or who are bona fide residents at the beach but they are asked not to entertain visitors who are not residents of the area during the emergency.

The Virginia Beach water supply is furnished by the city of Norfolk, and a 20-inch main is now under construction from the Moors bridge, pumping station to the Laskin road, near the beach. Norfolk officials recently declared a water supply problem had arisen because the Army, Navy and the town of Virginia Beach are taking more water than had been estimated would be needed. Work on the new main is being rushed but until it is completed there is no way to furnish additional water.

"There is little or no hope of relieving the water shortage at Virginia Beach this summer," Mayor W. W. Elliott told the Ledger-Dispatch this afternoon.

"The shortage has been brought about by the number of government connections with the pipe line ordinarily supplying the population at the beach," Mr. Elliott pointed out. "These connections make it impossible to supply the crowd that would ordinarily come to the beach for the holidays," he added, "so that the only relief that comes will be the result of completion of the 20-inch pipe line, now about one-half finished."

"There is one thing that I wish to emphasize, the water at Virginia Beach is good that there is just not enough of it to meet the unprecedented demands."

Chief of Police Suggests Parking Changes on 17th St.

Due to the shortage of policemen and the extreme difficulty of being able to enforce the parking restrictions on 17th street, it has been suggested by some of the establishments that all people owning a business or working in the various establishments who have automobiles leave them a block from 17th street if they are to be parked for more than one hour. This will enable customers who shop on 17th street to have an opportunity of finding a parking space.

It would be greatly appreciated by this Department if all establishments cooperate, thus helping us to solve this serious congestion on 17th street.

GI's Grateful To Mrs. Manly

"Mrs. Manly, we're having a battery party Thursday evening at the Rec Hall and there'll be about 150 fellows there. Now about the girls—". Of course, Lt. Brown; I'll make all the necessary arrangements and have the girls there by 8:30."

Mrs. Basil Manly, Chairman of the Dance Committee at the Va. Beach USO tackles another dance problem for Camp Pendleton and Lt. Brown, Post SSO. She immediately calls the CO's of the various service organizations requested and follows through by contacting the necessary number of girls required. This usually keeps her busy all day. Each girls reports to a designated chaperone and battery truck drivers are dispatched to pick up their sugar cargoes. After the dance each girls is taken to her home.

"It's been a great pleasure to work with the officers and enlisted men at Camp Pendleton," said Mrs. Manly, and I have been afforded the kindest courtesies from everybody. Lt. Brown has been cooperative and has always taken care of our every need."

Providing enough girls for all dances in this area for both officers and enlisted men is no easy task, but through her friends in Norfolk and Va. Beach and with the cooperation of the Norfolk and Va. Beach USO's she has had the helpful assistance of chaperones Mrs. Otto Gossman, Mrs. Irene Goldman, Mrs. R. O. Robinson, Mrs. Lynnwood Gray, Mrs. L. M. Miller, Mrs. Newton Goggsdale, Mrs. W. F. Cooke, Mrs. Edward New, and Miss Mary Rudyger.

We thought one soldier summed up a world of appreciation rather succinctly when he said, "If it hadn't been for Mrs. Manly, I would have gone over the hill many a time. These dances and parties make life worth while and sort of gives a fellow the feeling that he's home again."

Stormont Rescues Swimmer in Front of Casino Park

Dave Stormont, local police, was instrumental in saving the life of a serviceman who had gotten beyond his depth while swimming off 16th street in front of Casino Park. Mr. Stormont was working in the vicinity when cries for help were heard. Prompt action on his part no doubt saved the life of the swimmer who, apparently, had become exhausted. The accident occurred last Thursday and notice of it was received too late to get in the NEWS of June 23.

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

A REAFFIRMATION OF LOYALTY

On this Fourth of July, the one hundred and sixty-eighth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, it is fitting that we pause and take stock of what this cornerstone of our American way of life really means, that we reaffirm our loyalty to those things in which we believe.

The Declaration of Independence was much more than a proclamation emancipating the thirteen colonies from the mother country. It was the first statement of a new philosophy of freedom, a long range program by which and through which to establish a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

The Declaration of Independence was the credo through adherence to which we became the first self-constituted People—not brought together by race, by national origin or by any one religious belief but bound together by an acceptance of the practical ideal of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man which is the cornerstone of freedom, the basis of all monotheistic faiths, be it Catholicism, Judaism or Protestantism.

The price of freedom has always been high. But its price is never too high for those who have known what enslavement meant. Voluntarily we have given up much in money, in time, and in many of the things we had come to look upon as essential. The toll in patience, courage and long suffering has been great—but the sacrifices are mutual sacrifices, demanded from all for all. The only real weapon against the regimentation and enslavement of totalitarianism is the solidarity of unified action, when each individual works as a free man for the good of his fellow citizens.

The Declaration of Independence has given us more than any other country has ever possessed in the way of freedom for all. It will only continue to do so if, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge our concerted action to protect and defend with every ounce of power the democratic way of life for which it stands, and if we reaffirm by our actions our loyalty to the ideals which made us a nation.

RACKET

Richmond, (By VPA)—Families of service men are being victimized by a new version of an old racket, the newspaper clipping gag.

It was disclosed this week, several local families have been flimflamed out of from 20 cents to a dollar each by this ruse.

Families of service men receive a postal card from a little-known clipping bureau stating they have a newspaper clipping of interest concerning their loved-one that will be forwarded on receipt of a stipulated amount of money.

Reputable newspaper clipping bureaus have an established charge of 5 cents per clipping and do not solicit individual clippings but confine their transactions to firms buying their services on a monthly contract basis.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKinn

The picture on the left-hand corner of this column is usually that of a contemporary writer. This week we are giving the space over to one of our favorite authors of all time, Edgar Allan Poe is a good example—though by no means unique—of an author who couldn't earn a living for himself during his own lifetime and has been earning one for publishers ever since.

He had a desperate time making ends meet, wrote stories, poems, articles, book reviews, even on one occasion a newspaper hoax story about a trans-Atlantic balloon flight—anything to keep the pot boiling. After his death, just 35 years ago, his reputation grew enormously and he became recognized as one of the world's great writers. Imagine his amazement, were he living today, to find his stories distributed as a book—divided by the Book-of-the-Month Club in a nice little edition of about 300,000 copies. This particular edition of "Tales of Edgar Allan Poe" is especially notable for its introduction by Hervey Allen and its 39 beautiful wood engravings by Fritz Eichenberg.

Adventurous readers, who like to keep in touch with what our younger authors are writing, will want to look into a book titled "Cross-Section," and edited by the first-named writer of this column. "Cross-Section" contains six novelettes, 17 short stories, two full-length plays, a critical essay, and 26 poems—none of which has ever been published before—contributed by some 40 authors. Some of these authors are well-known, Richard Wright, for instance, whose novelette "The Man Who Lived Underground" is his first work of fiction since his famous novel, "Native Son," published some years ago. Ira Wolfert, Pulitzer Prize winning correspondent, and author of one of the best novels last year, "Tucker's People," also has a fascinating novelette, "My Wife The Witch." One of the plays, "The Man Who Had All The Luck," by Arthur Miller, will reach Broadway next September. Many of the contributors to "Cross-Section," however, have never been published before, and it is interesting to note that several have already been offered contracts for novels by leading publishers.

How foreign diplomats gauge world events: Once back in 1940, Ambassador Joseph C. Grew relates in "Ten Years in Japan," he was attending a French Embassy gathering, when Baron Fain, the Embassy Counselor, approached him to ask how his golf was going. "Why is it, my dear Baron," said Grew, "that whenever a colleague or a Japanese opens a talk with me, instead of commenting on the weather he almost always asks about my golf?" Fain replied, "Why, Mr. Ambassador, your golf is the thermometer which measures the temperature in the Diplomatic Corps. If a week goes by without your playing golf, the fact is cable to every chancellery the world over, for the situation is then indeed critical!"

EDGAR ALLEN POE

Well-trained GHOST wants work!

THE local Society of Spooks and Spectres blames us for unemployment among its members.

And there is plenty of electricity for all essential civilian and wartime needs. It is cheap and unrationed.

They say a ghost has got to have long dark halls to work in and flickering candles to blow out. How can any self-respecting wraith rattle chains and utter mournful moans in a brightly lighted room with the radio playing swing music?

But there is no electricity to waste!

None to waste, because the production of electricity consumes many vital resources upon which war has first call. The production of electricity uses manpower, coal, oil, transportation, and many materials in which there are acute shortages.

Who's afraid of misty apparitions—with reassuring light always instantly at hand? And just as electricity has all but banished haunted houses, so it has laid the ghosts of many household jobs that once were done by hand.

Use all you NEED but NEED all you use!

Regardless of whether your candidate wins or loses, the world will wag along almost the same.

You can come pretty close to gauging a person's intelligence by the kind of talking he does.

Advertising, brother, advertise; wiser merchants than you have done it to their own advantage.

Advertising must be a good thing because there are so many successful business men who say so.

There may be worst pests than the tireless, tiresome talker, but we can't name them.

BOOKS TO OWN

Clifton Fadiman, editor and book critic, is now a member of the Editorial Board of the Book-of-the-Month Club. His appointment is the first addition to the Club's board, since the organization was launched eighteen years ago, with Dorothy Canfield, Christopher Morley, Henry Seidel Canby, Heywood Brown, who died in 1939, and the late William Allen White, as the five judges.

As the new judge, Mr. Fadiman will help to select the book-of-the-month from among the approximately 300 books submitted by the leading American publishers each month. Says Harry Scherman, President of the Club, "Clifton Fadiman's major interest has always been a deep concern with books, and the ceaseless cross-fertilization that goes on between literature and life. His highly individual book-judgments, and his acute critical conscience, fit beautifully into our editorial picture."

The Book-of-the-Month Club is the pioneer book club in this country and the largest organization of its kind in the world. Since its inception in 1926, the Club has selected, in advance of publication, a total of 257 books, many of which have since become landmark in modern literature.

Among these were "John Brown's Body" by Stephen Vincent Benet, "Kristin Lavransdatter" by Sigrid Undset, "All Quiet on the Western Front" by Erich Maria Remarque, "The Good Earth" by Pearl Buck, "Anthony Adverse" by Hervey Allen, Margaret Mitchell's "Gone With the Wind," "Forty Days of Musa Dagh" by Franz Werfel, and, more recently, "The Song of Bernadette" by the same author.

"Information Please" over which Mr. Fadiman presides as Master of Ceremonies, is popular with radio audiences not only for its sophisticated character, but also for the puns sometimes perpetrated by its participants. We were reminded of one in John E. Drewery's "Post Biographies of Famous Journalists" When Guest Expert John Gunther correctly guessed the identity of the ruler of Persia, Fadiman asked, "Are you shah, Mr. Gunther?" Gunther's reply was, "Sultanly."

Also according to "Post Biographies," here are a few of the ways Clifton Fadiman worked his way through high school and college. He tutored a half wit; he read Shakespeare to a mad Wall Street plunger; he got ten dollars an afternoon on the golf links for trailing an earnest duffer around and telling him to keep his head down; he managed a country hotel; he lectured on French symbolist poetry at five dollars an hour. He ran errands for a butcher's shop; peddled magazine subscriptions in Weehawken; and he had a couple of amusement-park jobs. One of these was guiding women and children out of an imitation of the Cretan Minotaur's maze; the other was chasing boys off something called the Devil's Whirlpool.

It's not too late to begin that Victory Garden, which may be very important to you before the year ends.

Few rites are of more importance to a young man than filling in the identity card in his first billfold.

The carry-over of feed grains at the end of the present feeding year probably will be the smallest for any year since 1937, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics predicts.

Theatre Previews

"IS EVERYBODY HAPPY" will be the feature at the Roland on Friday and Saturday, Nan Wynn, Michael Duane will be supported by Ted Lewis and Orchestra in this musical production.

The story, a cut-back told by Ted Lewis to a soldier and his sweetheart who can't make up their minds to get married before the war is over, takes us back to the colorful period of 1915 and shows the trials and tribulations of a young Lewis struggling to get the break which will make him famous. It shows how his hand was first formed, his debut at Rector's famous Broadway Restaurant after putting on an impromptu show on the sidewalk and landing in jail.

Sunday and Monday there will be a double feature. "TIMBER QUEEN" starring Richard Arlen, Mary Beth Hughes and June Havoc, which is a story laid against the dangerous background of the mountain men who fight and die for the right to fell the giant trees. Excitement and romance fill the picture from beginning to end. Also the added feature Hoot Gibson in "OUTLAW TRAIL."

The final offering for the week will be "HAT CHECK HONEY" with Leon Errol, Grace McDonald, Walter Catlett and Richard Davis in the title roles. Melody, Comedy and Pathos play important roles in this musical comedy with three of the nation's most popular name bands to furnish the music.

Friday and Saturday, June 30 and July 1, "FOLLOW THE BOYS" will be the feature at the Bayne Theatre. George Raft, Vera Zorina, Grace McDonald and Charles Butterworth will be starred in this proud and exciting story of America's show-world at war. Told with scores of its greatest stars, four of its greatest bands, the song of tomorrow and the greatest entertainers of today.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Betty Grable, John Harvey, Martha Raye and Joe E. Brown will be starred in "PIN UP GIRL." This is a 20th Century Fox production in Technicolor. With light comedy, good songs and lyrics and specialty dances the production is entertaining with no heavy plot to tax the imagination.

"BETWEEN TWO WORLDS", starring John Garfield, Paul Henreid, Sydney Greenstreet and Eleanor Parker will be the attraction for Wednesday and Thursday.

Essentially, "Between Two Worlds" is a tender and poignant love story about the lovely—and loving—Ann (Eleanor Parker) and her handsome, sensitive musician-husband, Henry Bergner (Paul Henreid). But not once does this love story descend to the usual celluloid "formula" level. Instead, the film poses a fine moral question—one which should find a timely response among today's emotionally war-torn audiences. For in these days of Maritan unreality when death chooses freely from among the millions, it would be comforting indeed to be able to tear aside the curtains and see what lies beyond. This the Warner Bros. have essayed to do—and the result is at once both stimulating and palliative.

"INFORMATION PLEASE" over which Mr. Fadiman presides as Master of Ceremonies, is popular with radio audiences not only for its sophisticated character, but also for the puns sometimes perpetrated by its participants. Regulation Clarified

The gasoline rationing regulation has been clarified to allow issuance of gasoline for "E" and "R" coupons for use in a registered vehicle if that vehicle is to serve as a power unit for such non-highway uses as driving saws, pumps, mills and the like, or if the fuel is to be used by automobile repairmen for testing motors. However, it is provided that such gasoline may not be used to propel the vehicle.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I can't think of anything else you'll need for your Victory garden, Judge... you've got pretty nearly everything."

"I think so, too, John. Ever get your asparagus patch going?"

"I gave that up last year, Judge. Tried it six years in a row with no luck. Just haven't got the right soil, I guess."

"Well, I think you're wise, John... no use keeping on trying things you know won't work. Just like prohibition. State-wide prohibition has been tried in this country seventy-two times in the last ninety years. It has been adopted forty-seven times in the past thirty-three years and discarded everywhere except in three states. Same thing was tried in eight provinces in Canada and in Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia but it was an admitted failure and universally abandoned.

"The reason is prohibition does not prohibit. All you get is bootleg liquor instead of legal liquor, plus no end of crime and corruption."

Health Notes

DROWNINGS

"An officer of the marines recently stated that the ability to stay afloat for 30 minutes had saved many service men's lives when it became necessary for them to take to the water. Thus, it is well understood why proficiency in swimming is required at naval stations. A similar ability on the part of civilians in years gone by also would have eliminated thousands of premature deaths. The great increase of community swimming pools has done much to train youngsters and adults alike to handle themselves safely and for reasonably long periods in water. Even so, accidental drownings still are too high," states Dr. I. C. Rigin, State Health Commissioner.

"Those unable to swim should exercise every care when in small boats or canoes. A review of the case histories due to drownings indicates that such persons, both young and middle-age, do not accord deep water the respect they should. Rocking the boat, caning or rowing distances from shore on lakes or rivers where heavy squalls suddenly can occur, and overloading such craft have many drownings to their credit. Ordinary caution could have prevented the majority of these casualties.

"Again, there is the overconfident swimmer who, being personally sold to his swimming prowess, ventures a longer distance than he is capable of negotiating, ending in tragedy." Indeed, the self-styled "expert" comprises one of the prominent groups that, during the summer months, get into the obituary columns.

"If the following basic safety rules were universally respected, the yearly drownings could be reduced markedly. First, it is unwise to enter the water immediately after meals. The penalty may be cramps that often paralyze. Deep water should be avoided for at least an hour and a half after eating. Second, no one should 'solo' far from shore. The real expert swimmer invariably has a boat or sturdy swimming companions nearby. Solitary swimming in deep water near shore also can be dangerous. Third, if overheated or physically tired, one should take time out to cool off and rest. Overzeal is hazardous. And finally, if one feels chilled, to get out of the water immediately is the only wise thing to do.

"Swimming is a wonderful sport. It deserves all the enthusiasm displayed for it both from the recreational and health standpoints. To approach the water however, with reasonable caution, is a safety measure that should be applied by many thousands more than are doing so today. Thus, while swimming is highly commended, regard for the hazards involved should be fully realized."

HARVESTING IRISH POTATO CROP

The Virginia potato crop has been seriously reduced by conditions beyond the growers' control. Wet unseasonable weather delayed planting. This and a prolonged drought, following planting, have combined to delay the growth of the crop. Poor quality which always accompanies low yields will be the rule rather than the exception this year. Virginia growers will have to market their crop in competition with high quality potatoes from other competing areas, particularly California. It becomes increasingly important, therefore, that every effort be made to place as attractive a pack as possible on the market. Carelessness in marketing can break a market and lower the price even at times when a commodity is scarce. This is ever more true when there is a scarcity in one area but when the total supply is ample. The following suggestions are worth your consideration:

1. Time of Harvesting. Whenever possible, potatoes should be dug in the late afternoon, allowed to remain in the field to cool overnight and hauled out of the field as early in the morning as possible. Experiments have shown that exposure to the sun's rays for as little as one hour between 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. may cause serious injury and rot enroute to market.

2. Cover Potatoes Left in Field. Where it is necessary to allow potatoes to stand in the field all day in sacks they should be covered with an empty sack or vines to prevent heat injury. The temperature of the potatoes when exposed to the sun becomes much higher than that of the surrounding air even on cloudy days. When the air temperature is 90° F., the inside of the potato may show a temperature of 130 to 140 degrees. Keep the potatoes covered. Potatoes kept in the field all day should be hauled out of the field early the next morning, if possible.

3. Load the Potatoes While Cool. Potatoes should not be loaded while hot. The temperature of the potato should preferably be 70 degrees or lower when loaded in order to prevent rot in transit. Rot often starts in overheated potatoes even when there is no apparent indication of scalding when the potatoes are loaded.

4. Avoid Skinning or Bruising. Much of the early potato crop is harvested before it is mature. The thin skin is easily broken. Care should be taken to avoid cutting, bruising and skinning the potato as the rot organism gains easy access in the potato through these wounds.

5. Avoid Throwing Too Many Rows Together. For the same reason, avoid throwing too many rows in one line of heaps. Potatoes are frequently badly bruised by this

Used Car Ceilings

Anyone planning to buy or sell a car may get specific information as to price and procedure from his local War Price and Rationing Board, Dr. J. Fulmer Bright, District Director, at Richmond OPA, announced.

All sellers, private individuals, as well as dealers, will be affected by the price ceiling program starting July 10, Dr. Bright said.

He pointed out that passenger cars are an integral part of our national transportation system, especially in rural areas where a regular trip to town in the family car is often the only way to get supplies for farm production and family life.

The prices on used cars, on which there have been no ceilings, lately have risen to a point where many farmers who needed this transportation could not afford it, he added.

OPA also is providing used car dealers with copies of the regulation concerning price lists.

Egg Grades Extended

Maximum prices for wholesale grades of eggs have been extended temporarily until the Office of Price Administration can complete a revised regulation to be issued soon, Dr. Bright announced.

Wholesale grades refer to these eggs which have not been completely graded or candled.

practice. Avoid injury and you reduce rot in transit.

6. Period of Harvesting. Harvesting no more potatoes at any one time than you can handle and market properly. Rush work usually results in improper handling with the result that the potatoes do not carry properly.

If all potato growers will cooperate in this program, better return will no doubt result.

THREE PRECIOUS THINGS

Six centuries before Christ there lived a wise Chinese philosopher who has given us three precious principles of leadership. As you turn the pages of history you will find that the greatest men followed these simple precepts.

"I have three precious things which I cherish and prize," said the sage. "The first is gentleness, the second is frugality, the third is humility.

"Be gentle and you may be bold; be frugal and you may be liberal; avoid putting yourself above others and you may become a leader."

—The National Observer.
